

An Understated Dominance By Marina Vittori

Chapter 1914

The vehicle was traveling at a constant speed, very smoothly.

Finally, at noon the next day, we arrived at the edge of the Death Desert.

On the edge of the desert, there is a large village with about five to six hundred households living there.

There are hotels, gas stations, supermarkets, etc. in the village.

Although the scale is not large, it basically has everything that should be there.

For the expedition team, this village is a supply station that can save lives at critical moments.

Regardless of whether they are entering the desert or coming out of the desert, they will stop in this village to rest and inquire about some news.

It is worth mentioning that due to the difficulty in transporting supplies, prices in the village are several times higher than outside.

After Margaret's motorcade entered the village, it finally stopped in front of a country hotel called [House of Hope].

This country hotel was formerly a renovated primary school. It has enough rooms to accommodate more than a hundred people, which is not a problem at all.

"Miss Li, we're here."

After the motorcade stopped, a man dressed as a mercenary knocked on Margaret's car window.

The man is in his thirties, wearing a yellow camouflage uniform and leather boots. He is tall and has tough features, giving people the impression of a tough guy.

The man's name was Xue Feng. He was the captain of the expedition team. He had led the team into the desert of death twice and returned safely. He was also the guide hired by Margaret with a lot of money.

This trip to the desert will be led by Xue Feng.

"Captain Xue, is this the desert village?"

Margaret opened the door and looked around.

The village is not small, and all of them are low-rise buildings. Because they have been exposed to the baptism of wind and sand all year round, many places look relatively dilapidated and crude.

However, the hotel in front of us called [House of Hope] is somewhat exception. It looks clean and tidy, probably because it is cleaned frequently.

"Yes, there is only such a village within a hundred miles. Because it is close to the desert of death, it is called a desert village." "Although it is a small place, there are all kinds of things. As long as you are willing to spend money, you can find everything in a big city." Many things can be bought here."

"All kinds of people traveling from south to north, as long as they plan to explore the desert, will stay in the village for a few days, on the one hand to purchase supplies and on the other hand to inquire about news."

Xue Feng Explained with a smile.

"Very good, then let's stay here first and see what happens." Margaret nodded.

After traveling for a day and a night, most people were tired and needed a good rest before they had the energy to complete the task.

"Are you there?"

At this time, Dustin took off his eye mask, squinted and got out of the car.

“Here we are, let’s stay at this hotel today.” Margaret replied.

“Miss Li, this is...”

Seeing Dustin walking out of Margaret’s car, Xue Feng couldn’t help but frown slightly, looking a little unhappy.

“Oh, by the way, I forgot to introduce you.”

Margaret guided Xue Feng with one hand and said, Dustin “This is Xue Feng, the captain of the Black Scorpion Expedition Team. He has entered the Death Desert twice. He has rich experience and outstanding abilities. This time we are in the desert. The expedition will be led by Xue Feng.”

As he spoke, he directed him to Dustin: “Captain Xue, this is my friend and bodyguard. Dustin, if you encounter any trouble, you can come to him.”

“Captain Xue,

you Okay, please give me some advice.”

Dustin smiled slightly and reached out his hand.

“Bodyguard?”

Xue Feng looked up and down and said calmly: “Miss Li, are you being deceived? This guy’s little arms and legs look so helpless, how can he protect you?”
