Chapter 916

Chapter 916

Kate said solemnly, "The Ancient Martial Assembly is a gathering of all martial forces within Florence.

"It's a martial competition where each force nominates their top experts to participate. It's held every ten years and lets the various forces settle the scores with each other and redistribute their interests. It directly involves the interests of all the martial forces.

"Correspondingly, there's also the Ancient Martial Alliance.

"All known martial forces, whether it's the four great families, our Medicine Sect, or other forces from all over the country, are registered under the alliance. Usually, the Ancient Martial Alliance is very lax and has no specific requirements for the forces registered under it.

"However, during critical moments such as when there are conflicts between forces, the Alliance intervenes to mediate and prevent the situation from escalating further.

"Furthermore, when facing forces not registered with the Alliance or powerful external forces, the Ancient Martial Alliance will unite to deal with them."

Andrius nodded slowly. He had a better understanding of the Ancient Martial Assembly and the Ancient Martial Alliance now.

At that point, Kate's expression grew slightly serious. "However, just recently, the former chief of the Ancient Martial Alliance mysteriously disappeared. That's why the Emyrean Elder suggested reelecting a new chief to oversee the situation."

Andrius' eyes sparkled.

The Ancient Martial Alliance Chief chose now of all times to disappear during this series of events. Could there be a connection?

Moreover, who was the Empyrean Elder that Kate mentioned? Why did they have the right to call for the Ancient Martial Assembly to be held in advance?

He could not figure it out.

Andrius stopped thinking about it and asked, "Kate, it seems these major events don't have much to do with me. Why are you bringing me over?"

Putting aside his identity as the orphan of the Kleins, Andrius was not really involved in the martial world.

"Because my grandpa wants to see you," Kate replied honestly.

Wade!

Andrius fell into thought but did not speak further.

At Mount Cura, the car stopped at the entrance of the Medicine Sect. Kate led Andrius out of the car and went straight to the Medicine Sect's main hall.

After seeing Wade, Andrius went straight to the point, "Sect Master, why did you specifically summon me here?"

Chapter 916

Wade stared directly at Andrius and said slowly, "Andrius, regardless of whether you acknowledge it or not, the Medicine Sect's involvement in this turmoil is closely linked to you. You must bear the responsibility for this matter."

It was not the first time Andrius heard him say something like this.

However, Wade had been much more furious the previous time.

Andrius thought of how Kate had saved him multiple times, and it was indeed thanks to the Medicine Sect's intervention that he was not tortured by the Swallows. Thus, he did not refuse and said, "Please tell me what you want me to do."

Wade stared at Andrius with an inexplicable gleam in his eyes. “I want you to decipher the mural in the hall under the magma and learn the ancient technique within it.

“If you do, your strength will undoubtedly increase significantly. Then, help the Medicine Sect and seize the position of Alliance Chief!”

Wade’s request took Andrius by surprise.

Regardless, it was a mutually beneficial request.

Despite that, Andrius smiled wryly. “Sect Master, you may not know, but I’ve already studied the mural many times. I’ve tried everything I could, but I still don’t understand it. I only managed to figure out some parts of it after thinking constantly. It’s practically impossible if you want me to suddenly learn the techniques within.”

Andrius used the word ‘impossible’, emphasizing his lack of confidence in this matter.

“Don’t sell yourself short.” Wade looked at Andrius and suddenly smiled mysteriously. “In the Medicine Sect’s library, there’s an ancient book about that mural.

“If you refer to that book, your chances of deciphering the mural should greatly increase.”

Andrius was instantly interested.

If there really was such a book, he might have a good chance of understanding the mural.

Although he did not say anything, Wade could tell from his expression that he was intrigued. He instructed Kate, who was standing nearby, “Kate, fetch the ancient book called ‘Records of Profundity’ from our library for Andrius to read.”

Chapter 917

“Yes, Grandpa.”

Then, Kate led Andrius to the library.

The library was located behind Mount Cura and was a critical area for the Medicine Sect. It was guarded secretly by several elders, making it so ordinary people could not access it.

Andrius looked up.

It was an ancient–styled building with white walls, red tiles, and an interesting charm that made others curious to explore it.

At the entrance of the library a Medicine Sect disciple dressed in white robes came out. There was a golden cauldron embroidered on his chest. It was the emblem of a direct disciple of the Medicine Sect.

This person was one of the outstanding third–generation disciples and one of the top young experts in the entire Medicine Sect–Vincent Klein!

He was also the one who mocked Kate behind her back the most. He had a disdainful attitude toward Andrius.

In his eyes, Andrius was nothing more than an orphan from the Kleins. He had no power, no influence, and his meridians had been severed by Norvin. He was a complete waste.

Vincent saw the two and immediately showed a contemptuous expression, asking rudely, “Kate, why are you bringing this trash to the library? Are you going to bring an outsider into the library?”

He walked up to Andrius and blocked his path, smirking and making his intentions clear. He wanted to stop Andrius.

Kate had always been straightforward with him and sneered. “Vincent, the Medicine Sect and the Kleins share the same origin. Andrius is a member of the Kleins. How can he be considered an outsider?”

“Tsk...” Vincent’s face immediately showed a look of disdain upon hearing this. He said in a mocking tone, “The Klein family was just trash that was eliminated by the four great families. They’re history. Do they even deserve to be considered of the same origin as the Medicine Sect? If you ask me...”

Smack!

Before he could finish his sentence, Andrius slapped him hard. The annihilation of the Kleins had always been a sore spot for Andrius.

This boy’s arrogant words were unbearable.

Andrius could not hold back. Even if he had no power, he had to vent his anger for himself and for the Kleins.

A person could be weak in strength, but not weak in will!

M

Chapter 917

“You! Andrius Moonshade, you’re asking for death!”

Vincent was instantly furious. His pale face twisted, and his eyes bulged with endless ferocity.

As a direct disciple of the Medicine Sect and grandson of the First Elder, Tobias Klein, he had always done whatever he wanted in the Medicine Sect and was only the one who hit others. No one dared to make him suffer even the slightest injustice.

However...

He had been slapped in the face by a nobody.

This was a provocation!

It was a humiliation!

Swoosh!

The next moment, Vincent gathered his inner energy in his right hand and blasted it toward Andrius.

Judging by how condensed the inner energy was, he had already reached the late stage of Martial Lord!

“Hmph...”

Kate had long been displeased with Vincent. Seeing that he was about to attack Andrius, she immediately pushed her palm toward him without hesitation.

“Hah! You’re just embarrassing yourself!” Vincent snorted, his lips curling up sinisterly, and he increased the inner energy in his hand.

Bam!

The next moment, the two palms collided.

Vincent only felt a tremendous force rushing at him. The overwhelming inner energy was like a mountain crashing down on him. In an instant, it shattered about 80% of his inner energy, causing him to cough up blood and fly back, landing heavily on the steps.

“You...” Vincent wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth and stared at Kate with an expression of disbelief. He pointed to her and said, “Kate, you... You actually broke through to the Martial King realm!”

Chapter 918

Chapter 918

A Martial King!

That was basically unheard of among the younger generation.

Vincent had set a small goal for himself, which was to break through to the Martial King realm within three years.

Unexpectedly, someone he had always looked down upon, Kate, had already taken this step, becoming an outstanding talent of the Medicine Sect that surpassed him.

It was truly a mockery.

Vincent was both shocked and incredibly frustrated.

Kate did not care about Vincent. After pushing him away with the palm strike, she said coldly, Vincent, Andrius is an esteemed guest of the Medicine Sect, and my grandpa entrusted him with an important task. It's best if you don't harbor any ill intentions. Otherwise, don't blame me for being rude!"

Vincent struggled to get up and walked with a limp. He remained silent the entire time, but he shot a fierce glare at Kate and Andrius as he passed by them.

If looks could kill, the two would have been torn to shreds by now.

"Andrius, I'm really sorry." Kate glanced at Vincent's back and said apologetically. "He's Vincent Klein, the grandson of the Medicine Sect's First Elder. He's used to being arrogant."

"It's fine." Andrius shook his head and did not take it to heart.

Vincent was just a small fry. Even if he had some strength, he would not be able to make any big waves.

The two entered the library.

Kate led Andrius to a particular bookshelf and reached up to grab a secret manual from the highest shelf. It was the 'Records of Profundity'.

"This is the one." Kate handed the book to Andrius.

Andrius took the book but did not immediately start reading it.

"Can I take a look around here and check out some of these ancient manuals?" Andrius pointed to the numerous ancient books on the shelves and asked.

"No problem." Kate naturally did not refuse.

Afterward, Andrius wandered around the library for a while.

Soon, he noticed some eye-catching books, such as 'Guide to Inner Energy Cultivation', 'How to Rapidly Condense Inner Energy', 'In-depth Explanation of Inner Energy Fist Techniques', ' Essential Tips for Inner Energy Fist Techniques', and so on.

These manuals were all about inner energy and how to cultivate it.

Apart from that, there were also several manuals related to martial techniques, such as 'Fire Fist' and 'Sky-splitting Palm'.

Andrius flipped over the contents and discovered that these martial techniques explained in detail how to cultivate inner energy.

This surprised him greatly. He naturally did not need these techniques to cultivate inner energy anymore.

However, as the leader of the Lycantroops, considering how martial forces kept emerging, Florence would be thrown into chaos if they did not have power that matched up.

That was not what Andrius wanted to see.

Thus, he had to make Noir, the Eight Commanders, the Black Hawk, and the others cultivate inner energy as soon as possible and break through to the martial realm. Once they reached the martial realm, they should be able to help him one way or another.

Thus, Andrius took note of these manuals and then returned to the Medicine Sect main hall with Kate.

"How was it?"

Seeing that Andrius and Kate took quite some time in the library, Wade knew that Andrius must have spent some time exploring. He did not show surprise but instead asked proudly, "Is the Medicine Sect library rich enough for you?"

Andrius exclaimed, "The Medicine Sect library has everything."

"Hahaha..." Wade laughed in pride.

"Sect Master, I can go back to Mount Albus, but I have a small request," Andrius asked bluntly. "Oh?"

Wade raised his brows. "Go on."

"Before I depart for Mount Albus, I want to borrow a few books."

Andrius wanted to let Noir and the others cultivate the martial techniques as soon as possible. The sooner they reached the martial realm, the sooner they could assist him.

"No problem," Wade agreed without hesitation.

"Great!" Andrius was relieved and asked, "How about we meet at the entrance to Mount Albus in two days?"

"Two days? Very well." Wade agreed easily, and everything was settled.

Then, Andrius told Kate about the books he had chosen and asked her to help retrieve them.

Kate handed the stack of books to Andrius and said, "Andrius, you're still recovering from your injuries, but you're crucial to deciphering the mural. Grandpa asked me to accompany you so there'll be someone to look after you."

Andrius naturally had no objections.

The two returned to Kiyoto and soon found Noir.

"Andy!" Noir's face lit up with joy.

"This is for you." Andrius handed him the martial technique manuals he specifically selected and instructed, "Choose the most talented and dedicated individuals in the Lycantroops. Encourage them to diligently cultivate their strength and strive to enter the martial realm as soon as possible.

"It'll be best if you could even form a special martial combat unit within the Lycantroops!"

Martial realm techniques!

A martial combat unit!

The words instantly excited Noir. He had always followed Andrius, resolving various problems and thwarting enemy schemes.

However, as Andrius' enemies grew stronger, especially those recently appearing who were in the martial realm, it became clear that Noir and the Lycantroops were lacking.

The battle at the Swallows' stronghold was a testament.

Noir realized that they needed to improve as soon as possible to continue serving Andrius.

However, it was not easy to cultivate inner energy.

Several members of the Lycantroops were already at the stage of Grandmaster and Great Grandmaster, but they could not touch the threshold of entering the martial realm. Thus, they were feeling quite discouraged.

However, these manuals could change everything.

"Don't worry, Andy!" Noir took the manuals and patted his chest. "This matter concerns the life and death of the Lycantroops. I'll make sure it's handled properly. I believe that in the near future, we'll have a martial combat unit for our Lycantroops!"

Noir's determination assured Andrius.

Andrius patted his shoulder and smiled. "I'll leave this matter to you. Choose the candidates and make arrangements as you see fit. You don't need to have any reservations."

"Yes!"

After giving the instructions, Andrius and Kate took a private jet and left Kiyoto.

In Sumeria, the Black Hawk, Fergus, and Elmer were already waiting at the airport.

“Wolf King...” The Black Hawk could not help but be excited when he saw Andrius again. “I knew it. I knew you wouldn’t die so easily.”

That day, he saw Andrius fall into the magma but was unable to do anything. He could only return with the Medicine Sect and report what happened to Noir. Then, he wandered back to Sumeria.

Andrius only smiled and did not dwell on the matter.

He took out martial arts manuals tailored to each of the three’s strengths out of his pocket and said slowly, “Thank you for your assistance during this time. These are martial arts manuals that will guide you to cultivate inner energy as soon as possible, allowing you to enter the martial realm.”

Inner energy!

The martial realm!

The Black Hawk’s eyes widened when he heard those words. He had personally witnessed the terror of martial realm experts and felt the powerlessness when facing them. They were much more formidable than Noir.

Thus, it made him yearn for it even more.

Chapter 920

Now that the opportunity was right in front of him, he could not remain composed.

Fergus and Elmer exchanged a glance, both seeing the burning desire in the other’s eyes.

“However, I have a small condition...” Andrius looked at the three and continued, “Once you take these manuals, you’ll serve me from now on and must join my organization!”

“The martial techniques don’t matter. I’ve wanted to follow you for a long time now!” The Black Hawk instantly laughed and immediately took the manual he had his eyes on, caressing it non–stop.

It was like he was caressing a lover’s face!

This kid really had no manners.

“Ahem... The Black Hawk is right. We’re not that interested in martial arts, but following the Wolf King and serving the people is what we as doctors should aspire to!”

“As healers, following the Wolf King and benefiting the common people have always been our lifelong goal and beliefs!”

Fergus and Elmer exchanged a look and took the manuals from Andrius’ hand, speaking passionately.

After receiving the manuals, the way they looked at the books was as intimate as could be. It was more fervent than on their wedding night decades ago!

Well, they had been stuck at the pinnacle of Great Grandmaster for too long. They had yearned for this opportunity day and night. Now that it was right in front of them, how could they let it slip away?

Their attitudes and swift actions left Andrius slightly speechless. Then, he instructed, “With your strength and aptitude, you should be able to cultivate inner energy in half a month. At that time, just head to Kiyoto and report to Noir directly.”

The two replied in unison, “Yes, sir!”

Then, they took the manuals and left with grins.

Kate almost burst into laughter. “Andrius, you really have a lot of talents under your control.”

Indeed.

Andrius also smiled.

Before long, once Noir, the Black Hawk, and the others broke through, he would have more people at his disposal and would not be so stretched thin every time.

“Where are we going now?”

“Artemis Clinic.”

After saying that, Andrius led Kate in the direction he remembered.

In Artemis Clinic.

In the previous Grand Medicinal Competition, Luna had emerged as the champion and led the

Chapter 920

Crestfalls and New Moon Corporation to prosperity. Now, they were formidable entities.

Although Thedus only made it to the top ten of the Earthly Rankings, he had also made a name for himself in front of all of Florence.

Thus, Artemis Clinic was transformed and expanded. It was now several times larger than before.

Patients from neighboring provinces and cities flocked to the clinic, almost breaking down its doors.

Andrius and Kate walked in.

Thedus was seeing patients in the lobby.

Lyra was in a nearby room, administering acupuncture to one of the patients. With her knowledge and medical skills, she was more than capable of assisting.

“Don’t puncture there.” Andrius stepped forward and took a glance, then suddenly said, “This needle... should go in his Shencang point instead.”
