

Read Married at First Sight Chapter 2713

Married at First Sight Chapter 2713-Sage quickly looked around and whispered, "No one can hear it, right?"

He dared not speak loudly in his own home.

This made him feel uncomfortable.

He also disliked the Farrell family's rules more and more.

In other families, sons took over, but in the Farrell family, it was the daughter who took over.

In the Farrell family, the status of daughters was higher than that of sons. Even if they have the blood of the Farrell family in their bodies because they are born male, it is not their turn to be the master of the family.

Shiloh said, "Kathryn and the others have gone far away, and they shouldn't be able to hear you. Three brothers, I just want to remind you that you are reluctant to bear the beauties outside and don't bring it to face. Don't let my three sisters-in-law know that, even if mom is at home. Mom wants to favor you, but if my sisters-in-law's parents come to make trouble, Mom will deal with you. Are you willing to divorce them?"

Marco said, "The women outside are just for fun and will not marry home. Their family background and status are not worthy of us."

The mistress Marco kept had a very poor family. He gave his mistress an allowance of $10,000 every month, and she was very happy. Although his wife, Erika, didn't come from a wealthy family, her family, the Irwin Family, did own some assets that could support him in his business.

Marco had always been ambitious. Knowing that it would not be his turn to inherit the Farrell family's business, he thought of collecting the money himself. He held a high position in the Farrell Group, and with the help of the Irwin family, he did business in partnership outside. Through the Irwin family, if they help, he can make a lot of money from the Farrell Group.

That money was his.

The Irwin family also had some bad evidence about him. If he and his wife divorced and the Irwin family gave that evidence to his mother, he would not be able to finish them all and carry them around.

Besides, he and his wife had given birth to several children, so they always had to think about their children.

He would never get divorced.

Sage said. "Brother, you're right. No matter how young and beautiful the women outside are, they are just for fun. Shiloh, you should always speak nice words to your brothers in front of your sister-in-law, so that we can ease the relationship between husband and wife."

After Erika found out about Marco's cheating, she made trouble several times, and the Irwin family also had a lot of objections to him. His elder brother-in-law even warned him that if he did it again, they would destroy him.

Marco was quite afraid of Erika's brother, who was a j-e-r-k. If he offended him, he might really be destroyed.

Shiloh said, "The three sisters-in-law are more dissatisfied with me. They blame me for protecting you, and you can see it. Now the sisters-in-law are so affectionate toward Kathryn. I see, they just think that I have no chance to take over, so Please Kathryn, and hug Kathryn's thick thighs."

Recalling the slap she received from Erika that day, Shiloh's eyes filled with hatred.

She had never experienced that kind of humiliation when she had grown up.

But no one could blame it.

Alas, after the adoptive mother came back, her bank card was still frozen. The adoptive mother had no intention of helping her unfreeze the bank card. Then she wanted to spend money, but she spent her own private money.

The tenants of the shops under her name said that the business was not doing well, so they closed down and moved out. She wanted to rent them out again, but so far there were no new tenants.

She had put some shops up for sale, and there were people who came to see the shops, but they all wanted to kill her price, which was very low.

After more than twenty years of smooth sailing, she thought she was the proud daughter of heaven, but when Kathryn came back, she was nothing.

“Come on, come on, hurry in.” Shiloh urged everyone to go inside.

Married at First Sight Chapter 2714-The four siblings were worried that Kathryn would say bad things about them in front of their mother, and it was not good for them to chat outside for too long, so they hurried inside.

After Kathryn brought Liberty into the house, everyone in the house looked at her and felt that she looked very familiar.

Matriarch Farrell sat motionless on the main seat, and the seats next to her were filled with people, all of whom were high-status members of the Farrell family.

“Liberty, you’re here.” Matriarch Farrell said politely and then ordered the butler: “Bring a stool to Miss Hunt and let her sit on it.”

Liberty looked around the room, and when the butler brought a small stool over, she said sarcastically to Matriarch Farrell, “Mrs. Farrell, if you don’t want to treat guests, stop pretending. I came from afar, and you specially sent someone to the Fortress Hotel to invite me. I was invited over, but there was not even a place to sit. Mrs. Farrell, your hospitality really opened my eyes.”

After finishing speaking, Liberty turned around and left, saying to the bodyguards, “Let’s go!”

“Liberty.”

Matriarch Farrell called Liberty in a deep voice and said, “Not a single person in this room is younger than you. All of them are older than you. You can’t let your elders make way for a junior of yours.

There is a small stool for you to sit on. It gives you a place to sit in this room. It is already a great honor for you.”

No one else spoke or dared to speak.

Knowing that this familiar woman was Liberty from Wiltspoon, they could guess whose descendant Liberty was.

In terms of seniority, everyone here was Liberty's elder.

But Liberty was a descendant of the previous head of the family. According to the rules of the Farrell family, Liberty was the serious successor. People like them from the Farrell family would not dare act in front of the successor, no matter how senior they were. Acting like an elder.

The head of the family wanted to take advantage of their elder status to get the upper hand over Liberty.

The intention was, naturally, that she didn't want Liberty to come back and compete with Kathryn for the position of head of the family.

Liberty sneered: "I only know that I am a guest. Mrs. Farrell, if you treat me like this, then it is clear that you're not treating your guests well. Also don't tell me about elders. If my grandmother hadn't died in a conspiracy or in an accident, you wouldn't be arrogant in front of me!"

Audrey told Liberty that there were only three daughters in her generation. Serenity and Elisa both made it clear that they did not want to take over, so Liberty would be the successor of the Farrell family. When Liberty arrived in Jensburg, Audrey told her not to be afraid of anyone, not even the Farrell family.

With the identity and pretensions of the orthodox successor, she and Matriarch Farrell started to fight openly.

Matriarch Farrell looked ugly. "My eldest sister died in an accident, not in a conspiracy."

Liberty said, "How my grandmother died is known to heaven and earth. Mrs. Farrell, you also know. You can deceive anyone, but you cannot deceive heaven and earth."

"mom."

Kathryn called Matriarch Farrell, "Mom, since you invited Liberty to be your guest, don't do anything embarrassing and treat her with courtesy. Even if you don't treat Liberty as a guest, she is my aunt's descendant. Mom, you can't do this to Liberty. Mom, no one should say that you're guilty or scared."

Matriarch Farrell had a dark look on her face: "Kathryn!"

Matriarch Farrell was very angry when her biological daughter said this to her.

Kathryn said, "Mom, am I wrong? Guests come from far away. If we don't treat the guests well, if word spreads, it will affect the reputation of our Farrell family.

Mom, the more you make things difficult for Liberty, the more people think the rumors are true, and the more people will think that you're guilty and scared."