Married At First Sight Chapter 2715-“Liberty,” Kathryn walked past and stood in front of Liberty. She solemnly apologized to Liberty and said, “Liberty, my mother is old and a little confused. What she said and did was a little too much. I apologize for my mother.”

Liberty said, “This has nothing to do with Mrs. Farrell. If Mrs. Farrell doesn’t treat me as a guest, I don’t have to stay any longer.”

With that said, she led her bodyguard group, bypassed Kathryn, and walked out of the house.

Matriarch Farrell’s face turned black with anger from their own daughter, and they were also half-infuriated by Liberty’s strength.

Upon meeting Audrey in Wiltspoon, Audrey asked her to grant Liberty and Kathryn the right to compete, to regard Liberty as the Farrell family’s heir, and to grant Liberty the status and treatment that come with being the younger sister of the Farrell family.

How could the Farrell family be willing? Matriarch Farrell knew that Liberty came here with her eldest niece’s plan to seize the throne, so she specially held a family banquet and invited Liberty to come over, but she wanted to use her status as an elder to overpower Liberty.

But Liberty didn’t regard them as elders at all.

In Liberty’s heart, she was a distinguished guest invited by Matriarch Farrell. If Matriarch Farrell suppressed her, she was not treating her guests well.

Why does she stay if no one welcomes her?

Liberty would naturally leave.

It’s not like she came over shamelessly; it was Matriarch Farrell who sent someone to invite her, so she came over.

“Liberty.”

When Liberty walked to the door of the house, just as she was about to leave the house, Matriarch Farrell finally called out to Liberty.

Then Matriarch Farrell got up and walked past Kathryn.

She took a few deep breaths, tried hard to adjust her emotions, and said gently to Liberty, “Liberty, your grandma is my eldest sister, and I was raised by your grandma. I am your aunt, and I am also the current head of the Farrell family. You are indeed my junior.

Everyone in this room is your elder... Indeed, if my eldest sister had not died, you would be her descendant and the successor of the Farrell family. In our Farrell family, the status of the successor is second only to that of the family.

In front of other people, there is no need to bow to juniors. Although you are not the successor of our Farrell family now, you are the descendant of my eldest sister. Just now, well, I was indeed disrespectful.

I'm already seventy-one this year—almost seventy-one years old. As we get older, we will inevitably become a little confused. Don't argue with me. Tonight, you are a distinguished guest in our house!"

Matriarch Farrell endured her anger, and after Liberty apologized, she invited her back.

A person as arrogant as her is willing to bow her head and invite Liberty to come back. Liberty wouldn't believe it if there weren't some ghosts tonight.

Liberty dared to come and was mentally prepared.

She walked down the steps to Matriarch Farrell. When Matriarch Farrell asked her to come back, she returned to the hall, surrounded by bodyguards.

Then, the rest stood up in unison, no longer daring to act like their elders.

They started adjusting their sitting position.

Liberty sat down with Kathryn. She was a guest and a descendant of the previous family. She was supposed to be the successor, so she thought she was qualified to sit with Kathryn.

In this big family, the only one who could be ranked in front of her was Matriarch Farrell.

Kathryn looked at Matriarch Farrell and then at Liberty. She said to the room full of clan elders, "From now on, Liberty will be the same as me in our family. Everyone should treat Liberty with the same attitude."

Married at First Sight Chapter 2716-Kathryn continued: "Tonight, Liberty is not only an honored guest of our Farrell family but also wants to let everyone know who she is and what our Farrell family's status is. After you go back, please talk to your family members in a good manner. If you meet her on the road in the future, when you come to her, be respectful."

Everyone looked at Matriarch Farrell.

Matriarch Farrell was dissatisfied with the fact that their biological daughter was making trouble, but she knew that sooner or later in this family, their biological daughter had the final say.

Picking up Liberty and giving her the status of successor was also a great test for Kathryn.

Shiloh didn't have the capital to compete with Kathryn, but Liberty did.

Matriarch Farrell thought that since her daughter was willing to raise Liberty's status and compete with Liberty, she would help her daughter. If her daughter won, she would be able to secure her position in the family with confidence. There is no need for others to criticize you in private then.

If Kathryn loses... and the position of the Farrell family returns to the hands of Liberty, it will be God's will.

Of course, Matriarch Farrell would not really watch as Liberty snatched it away and returned it to her.

If Kathryn is useless and loses to Liberty, Matriarch Farrell still has three sons. At worst, she can change the rules of the Farrell family and allow sons to take over, or she can select young women with outstanding abilities and train them to continue to fight Liberty. As long as Matriarch Farrell still has breath, she will not let her eldest sister's descendants sit at home easily.

After Matriarch Farrell thought about it a thousand times, she did not stop Kathryn from acting on her own.

"What Kathryn said is what I want to tell everyone. I was confused just now. Don't imitate me and be confused."

Matriarch Farrell said it with a guilty look on her face.

She spoke up, and everyone became more respectful toward Liberty.

Liberty snorted coldly in her heart. Matriarch Farrell was the most shameless old woman she had ever seen. If she is old and stupid, there will be no smart people in the world.

"Liberty, from now on, the Farrell family will be your home. You will be here, just like in your own home. You don't have to be restrained." Matriarch Farrell said it politely.

Liberty was also polite and said, "I felt a sense of familiarity as soon as I came in. I feel like this is my home. You don't have to worry about me being restrained. I will definitely treat this place as my own home. My mother and aunt also used to live here, too."

This meant that without Matriarch Farrell to compete for the throne, she would just live here.

Matriarch Farrell sighed. "Yes, your mother and your aunt used to live here, but I live elsewhere."

This was the residence of the Farrell family. She moved out of the Farrell family mansion and lived in another house when she became an adult.

“After dinner later, let Kathryn take you around to familiarize yourself with the environment. By the way, Liberty, you can move in instead of staying in a hotel. You are a descendant of the Farrell family. If you stay in a hotel when you’re in Jensburg instead of Farrell’s house, that’s not good.”

Matriarch Farrell invited Liberty to move into the Farrell family mansion.

Liberty refused: “Now, I won’t move in. It’s more convenient to live in a hotel. I have to run around every day, so it won’t affect everyone.”

When she wanted to move in, she avenged her grandma and the others, taking back the position of the Farrell family, and moved in openly as a winner, and then the entire Farrell family’s family moved out from here.

There is no room for tigers on a mountain. If she were the winner, she would not allow the Farrell family to live here again. Of course, if she loses, she won’t be able to move in.
