

An Understated Dominance By Marina Vittori

Chapter 1958

At this moment, the edge area of the camp.

Two elite teams were waiting in full formation, staring straight at the darkness ahead.

There, the roar of the beast was getting closer and closer, accompanied by the rumble of running.

At this time, most of the people in the camp had gathered, preparing to meet the unknown monster.

"Protect Miss Margaret!"

When Margaret stepped forward, the guard captain immediately gathered people to protect her, just in case.

"Brothers! Draw your sword!"

Kevin Snow, excited and nervous at the same time, directed the disciples of the Golden Sword Sect to line up in front.

Although he often competes with warriors in the martial arts world, he has never fought against a monster, so he is inevitably looking forward to it.

Of course, there is also a bit of nervousness about the unknown.

"Be careful! Act according to the opportunity!"

Leo Alexander and the members of the Black Scorpion Team stood slightly behind.

They have strong overall abilities. If we only look at the value of force, they cannot compare to the disciples of the Golden Knife Sect.

"What a fuss."

Billy Ruso held a pot of warm wine and leaned lazily against the tree, looking a little careless.

As a martial arts master, he naturally has corresponding arrogance.

Ordinary monsters are not qualified for him to take action.

However, he was a little curious, how many strange things were hidden in this strange oasis?

"Roar!"

Just as everyone was waiting, a beast's roar suddenly sounded.

Immediately afterwards, a monster that looked like a deer but not a deer, and something like a horse but not a horse, suddenly jumped out of the darkness.

This monster has two horns on its head, is covered in scales, has a tail like a steel whip, and has a mouth full of sharp teeth. It looks powerful and majestic and is particularly scary.

"Light the fire!"

the guard captain gave the order, and the kerosene in the outermost area was directly ignited.

As the raging fire burned, the entire camp area was as bright as day.

The original severe cold was quickly dissipated, and the surrounding area became warm.

"Ang!"

The sudden wall of fire frightened the deer-horse-shaped monster into a neigh. It raised its front hooves high, not daring to move an inch forward.

Fear of fire is the instinct of almost all beasts.

"Hey! It scared me. I thought it was so powerful, but it turned out to be this!"

“It looked quite bluffing, but it turned out that it couldn’t even get through the wall of fire. It’s a typical sight but useless.”

“This monster is so strange, if you catch it alive, you can probably sell it for a lot of money outside, right?”

”That’s right, that’s right! Catch him alive and sell him for money!”

Everyone was talking and getting excited.

A rare species like this that has never been seen before would definitely fetch a sky-high price if put in an underground auction house.

This is no worse than the value of any heavenly material or earthly treasure.

”Roar!!”

As they were discussing, another monster rushed out of the darkness.

This monster is a bit like a leopard, but it is extremely large, twice the size of the deer and horse monster. Its fur is black, and under the firelight, it gleams, as if it is covered with a layer of black armor.

As soon as the black panther monster appeared, it opened its bloody mouth and bit hard on the deer horse monster’s neck.

Its huge body easily pushed the deer and horse monster to the ground, and it tore the prey around its mouth frantically.

”Ang~!”

The deer-horse monster neighed in agony, its hooves kicked wildly, and the horns on its head were constantly swinging, trying to fight for restraint.

However, no matter how hard it struggled, it could not escape the bite of the black panther monster.

There is a huge difference in size between the two sides. With one claw of the black panther monster, the head of the deer horse monster can be pinned to the ground and unable to move.

"Ang~!"

As the neighing sound weakened, the deer and horse monster gradually stopped struggling, and blood flowed all over the ground.

The black panther monster didn't care and just enjoyed its prey in public.

The smell of blood began to spread rapidly.

"What... what is this?"

"Damn! It looks so powerful!"

Looking at the ferocious black panther monster, everyone couldn't help but widen their eyes, surprised and afraid. .

First of all, the size of the black panther monster is several sizes larger than that of a tiger, with a shoulder height of nearly three meters. Just standing there gives people a huge sense of oppression.

The second is the aggressiveness of the Black Panther monster. When it first pounces, it is as fast as lightning, making it difficult to guard against.

Moreover, its sharp claws and fangs can easily tear through the scales of the deer and horse monster. If it were a human, it would be cut into pieces as soon as the claws came down.

They initially thought it was a deer and horse monster that broke into the camp.

After getting the whole picture, it turned out that he was being chased, followed by a more powerful beast.

"Miss, what should we do? Capture alive or hunt?" the guard captain asked tentatively.

If this monster that looks like a black panther can be captured alive and transported back to Stonia, it will definitely be a spectacle.

The only problem is that this monster is very ferocious and has amazing fighting power.

It's easy to kill, but if you capture him alive, you'll probably injure some of your brothers.

"Don't worry about it. If it can leave on its own after eating, we will just pretend that nothing happened." Margaret said calmly.

She just thought it was a monster attacking the camp, but now she discovered that it was a predator killing its prey.

This is the natural law in the oasis. As long as it does not threaten the safety of the team, she is unwilling to pay attention to it.

"This strange beast is very good, I want to catch it and use it as a mount!"

Suddenly, a burst of laughter rang out.

Everyone looked back and saw Billy Ruso walking forward happily holding a wine bottle.

His eyes were shining, his face showed surprise, and he was obviously very interested in this black panther monster.

"Senior Ruso, this monster is very fierce, are you sure you want to do this?" Kevin Snow asked tentatively.

"What? Do you think I can't conquer it?" Billy Ruso raised his eyebrows, somewhat displeased.

"That's not true."

Kevin Snow immediately shook his head and corrected: "Senior Ruso is so powerful that it would be easy to subdue a strange beast. However, as the saying goes, it is wild and difficult to tame. I'm afraid that it will cause a lot of trouble if you take this thing out."

"Stop talking nonsense! I don't care what the trouble is, anyway, I am determined to decide on this strange beast, and no one can steal it from me!" Billy Ruso said in a very strong tone.

If only he could take such a majestic beast as a mount.

My name as the Desert Dragon will definitely become famous all over the world!
