Chapter 966

How arrogant!

It was Edwin's first time encountering such an arrogant young man. He could not help but get angry and laughed. "Go on then, kid. Tell me the consequences if I don't resign."

Andrius glanced at him and could not be bothered to argue with him. He immediately dialed a number.

"Sonia, I'm on the first floor of Stardust Complex. Come and see me within three minutes." Then, he hung up the phone.

In the large conference room, Sonia was holding a meeting.

After suddenly receiving Andrius' call, she immediately stood up and said, "The big boss has arrived at Stardust Complex. We'll suspend the meeting for now. Everyone, follow me outside to welcome him."

Then, Sonia walked out.

The top executives in the meeting room were first surprised and then filled with excitement. "The big boss is here!"

"Hiss—I've been working at Celestial Enterprise for so long, but I've never seen the big boss before!"

"Same here. We finally have a chance to meet that legendary figure."

“Haha, the big boss is coming to Celestial Enterprise to guide our work. We must make a good impression on him!”

“That’s right!”

The executives discussed excitedly while following Sonia. They all knew that the big boss of Celestial Enterprise was the Wolf King!

Now, the Wolf King was a formidable figure in Florence and held immense power and influence. He stood high above everyone else. Thus, working at Celestial Enterprise was a point of pride for these executives.

Now that they had the chance to meet this legendary figure, who would not look forward to it and be excited?

On the first floor of the building, after Andrius’ words fell, there was a moment of stunned silence.

Then, Edwin and the others burst into laughter.

“Hahahahaha-”

The people laughed arrogantly and contemptuously.

“Goddamn, my sides hurt!” After a long time, Edwin straightened up and said sarcastically, How stupid. I didn’t know you had a talent for comedy. Thanks for the entertainment you brought us.

However...”

Edwin’s expression suddenly darkened, and his narrowed eyes emitted a fierce aberland doesn’t show up within three minutes, I’m afraid you’ll be in for Tomorrow, there’ll be one more dead body without limbs or a head found in the river!”

After saying that, Edwin pulled up a chair, looked at his Rolex, and started to countdown. “You have three minutes starting now!”

“Three minutes!” Trent grinned sinisterly. His mind was already thinking about how he would torment Andrius and make him regret living.

Andrius did not bother to respond and also pulled over a chair. He sat down and crossed his legs.

“Heh. Keep up the act.” Trent said disdainfully, “You’re very good at it. I’ll teach you a lesson in three minutes!”

Andrius still remained silent. He took out a special military–issued cigarette, started smoking, and blew out thick smoke that made everyone cough.

Just as Trent was about to take the cigarette from him, Edwin suddenly stood up and said coldly, “Your three minutes are up, kid. Security!”

Edwin turned toward the security personnel who had already gathered and shouted, “Get rid of this pest!”

Trent’s lips curled up. He seemed to have already envisioned Andrius kneeling before him, begging for mercy.

“Stop!”

Suddenly, an angry shout came from the elevator.

Edwin frowned, finding the voice somewhat familiar, and instinctively turned to look. He saw Sonia and a group of senior executives rushing toward them from the elevator.

Act Fast: Free Bonus Time is Running Out!

Chapter 967

“Ms. Timberland!” Edwin suddenly shrank back and quickly went to greet her. He put on a servile face and said, “This guy was just showing off in front of us.

“He proudly claimed that he would make us leave within three minutes. He’s arrogant beyond belief I suggest...”

At that point, he glanced at Andrius and said sinisterly, “We should...”

He did not notice that Sonia and the executives behind her had their expressions darkened significantly.

Smack!

Sonia could not hold back anymore. She slapped Edwin across the face, leaving a palm print on his cheek, and scolded, “Suggest, my ass!

“Open your damn eyes and look clearly! The person in front of you is the boss of Celestial Enterprise, the Wolf King of Florence!”

At Sonia’s words, the entire room fell silent.

Everyone was stunned and stared dumbfoundedly at Andrius.

The unassuming young man in front of them was the boss of Celestial Enterprise, the Wolf King of Florence. He was a prominent figure with extreme influence and power!

Edwin, who had previously felt wronged, was now scared out of his wits. Beads of sweat appeared on his forehead and began pouring like rain. His entire body went cold.

In an instant, Edwin was drenched in cold sweat. He actually provoked the big boss! He provoked the Wolf King of Florence!

It was like dancing on his own grave!
It was like tangoing with the devil!

It was like receiving thank you cards from the Grim Reaper!
In his fear, Edwin glanced at Trent, who had already slumped to the side. His anger welled up, and he grabbed Trent by the hair.

“You blind bastard!”

Smack!

“Why did you have to provoke the Wolf King? Are you tired of living?”

Smack!

“Damn it, I’ll teach you a lesson on behalf of your father today. I’ll make sure you know your place!”

Smack!

With every insult, Edwin delivered a heavy blow to Trent’s face.

After a few rounds of beating, Trent’s face was bruised and swollen until it was unrecognizable.

However, Edwin continued to kick and punch Trent until the latter was twitching and nearly unconscious. Then, he threw Trent aside.

After that, he went up to Andrius and knelt with a thud. “I was wrong, boss! I didn’t my nephew well, which led to him offending you!

manage

“I’m guilty! I repent! I’ll turn over a new leaf! I swear, this will never happen again!”

Edwin’s attitude was extremely sincere, completely opposite to his earlier arrogance.

“Enough!” Andrius sneered. “You’re called Edwin, aren’t you? Sure enough, you’re the deputy director of Celestial Enterprise. You’re a cunning old fox who can even bear to use violence against your nephew. Unfortunately, those tricks are meaningless in front of me.”

Edwin’s expression suddenly changed. He had deliberately beaten Trent severely to show Andrius, wanting the latter to spare him after seeing how much effort he put in.

However, the Wolf King saw through it all!

“Wolf King!” Edwin trembled from fear. His urine flowed uncontrollably, but he could not care less and simply knelt in the puddle, groveling, “I was wrong. I was truly wrong... “I was blind. I was clouded by ignorance, so...”

Chapter 968

Edwin begged for mercy while crawling forward to hold Andrius’ legs.

“Get lost.”

Just as he was about to touch Andrius’ legs, a sharp red high heel stomped on his face and kicked him aside forcefully.

It was Sonia.

“Security.” Sonia pointed to Edwin and Trent and said coldly, “Break their hands and legs, then send them to the Western region to do hard labor.”

Trent and Edwin instantly turned ashen.

“Ms. Timberland!”

“Ms. Timberland!”

The both of them knelt and tried to grovel.

However, the guards acted swiftly and dragged them out.

“Ms. Timberland!”

“Have mercy, Ms. Timberland!

The two continued pleading but to no avail.

“Ahhhhh...”

Not long after, agonizing cries echoed throughout Stardust Complex.

Sonia lowered her head and approached Andrius like a child who had done something wrong.

Boss!”

"Let's talk in the office."

"Alright."

They went to Sonia's office.

"Boss, it was my failure in managing Celestial Enterprise that led to this situation. I promise that I won't allow anything like this to happen again. Please punish me."

Andrius did not take the matter to heart and said calmly, "A person's character cannot be judged in a few words or by a resume. Just be more careful in the future."

Sonia felt like she had received a reprieve and said, "Yes, boss!"

Andrius asked, "How is the funding preparation going?"

Sonia immediately replied, "Celestial Enterprise has expanded its business recently, and we currently have a cash flow of fifty billion which we can use at any time."

Fifty billion...

While it sounded like an astronomical figure, it might not be enough considering the rare and precious items they needed to purchase.

"This money is for buying rare medicinal herbs from New Moon Corporation." Andrius instructed, "If we run out of funds later, contact Noir and tell him to deduct it directly from the Lycantroops' budget. Tell him it's my order."

Sonia agreed. "Yes, boss."

Andrius gave a few more instructions and left Celestial Enterprise.

Ring—

Just as he did, Dax called him.

"Andrius, Hugh has returned from abroad. Do you have time now? I'd like him to meet you."

Andrius did not have anything urgent and agreed. "Sure."

Dax asked, "Great. Where are you now? We'll come over right away."

Andrius glanced at a nearby café and casually said, "Cravings Café."

"Hold on, we'll be right there!"

After ten minutes, Dax arrived with a handsome young man in the private room where Andrius was. The young man was Hugh Wimbleton.

"Wolf King!" Hugh was extremely excited when he saw Andrius, and he stammered, "You're even more heroic in person than in the videos!"

This guy started with flattery right away.

Dax sighed and said, "I raised him for twenty years, but he's not even half as impressive as you appearing on the screen for twenty seconds. This kid idolizes you like you're a god."

Andrius could not help but laugh.

"Master!" Hugh had already prepared a cup of hot tea and offered it to Andrius, performing the traditional act of formally accepting a master. "Please have some tea."

Andrius did not expect the kid to be so skilled with those customs.

However, he could not refuse anymore.

Chapter 969

Since Hugh already went through the motions, Andrius had no choice but to accept the tea.

He said, "Since you've taken me as your master, I have a few words to say.

"In life, virtue comes first. It doesn't matter if you don't have great strength, but you must maintain proper virtue.

"I hope that after I take you under my wing, you'll learn diligently and achieve great things. In the future, I hope you'll be capable of managing in high positions and bring blessings to the people.

"If you step into the martial world, I hope you will eliminate evil, promote justice, and uphold righteousness."

Hugh showed a serious expression and said, "I will follow your instructions, Master. I'll bring blessings to the people and eliminate evil in the future!"

Andrius nodded. "Get up."

"Yes, Master!"

Although the apprentice ceremony was rushed, it was considered complete.

"Haha..." Dax was delighted and said, "Andrius, today is a great day. I'll treat you to a meal."

"Sure." Andrius had no reason to refuse.

Ring-

Just as Andrius was about to get into his car, his phone in his pocket started ringing. It was Luna

"Hubby! Have you finished your business? Do you want to come back to Crestfall Manor for dinner?"

Andrius had already agreed to eat with Dax, so he refused and said, "No, I've already made plans with a friend to eat outside"

"Oh..." Luna hung up the phone with disappointment and muttered to herself, "A friend? I wonder if it's Lyra..."

She then prepared to drive back. However, just as she entered the car, she found that Old Hagstorm had been sitting in the passenger seat for an unknown amount of time.

"Master!" Luna exclaimed in surprise.

Old Hagstorm looked her up and down and smiled meaningfully. "Not bad. It seems that boy isn't a complete blockhead. He's finally making progress."

Luna was stunned for a moment, then instantly understood what he meant and blushed deeply.

"Master

Old Hagstorm looked at her blushing appearance and laughed heartily "Okay, I won't tease you anymore I'm here for an important matter."

Luna asked seriously, "What is it, Master?"

Old Hagstorm explained, "Andrius has been progressing too quickly, far beyond my expectations it's disrupting my plans, so I've decided to slow down his progress"

Luna did not understand and asked with a puzzled expression, Master, isn't it a good thing that he's making rapid progress? Why the need for such secrecy? Why not just tell him everything?"

Old Hagstorm chuckled hoarsely.

"You're thinking too simply." He sighed and said, "Andrius' enemies are very powerful. With his current strength, knowing the truth will only bring him endless trouble and even put his life in danger. Do you still want me to tell him?"

Luna was stunned. It was not the first time she heard Old Hagstorm say that.

"Master, are his enemies really that strong?" she looked at Old Hagstorm and asked.

Old Hagstorm nodded solemnly. "Yes. They're much more powerful than you can imagine."

Luna fell silent.

Andrius never talked about the pressure and difficulties he faced. Thus, even if she was his closest person, she had no idea what he was up against.

However, judging by Old Hagstorm's tone, it was not a simple matter.

After a moment of silence, Luna looked up and said, "Master, tell me what you need me to do." "It's simple." Old Hagstorm smiled. "I just need you to play along with me."

Chapter 970

In the VIP private room on the top floor of the Grand Drunken Immortal Hotel, Andrius, Dax, and Hugh were having dinner together.

"Andrius, I'm entrusting him to you from now on." Dax glanced at Hugh and said, "This kid has never suffered hardships since he was a child, but don't spoil him. If he makes mistakes, make sure to discipline him firmly."

Andrius chuckled. "Dax, do I look like someone who spoils others?"

Dax paused, then could not help but laugh. He remembered that in the past, Andrius did not even spoil him, the Southern Warzone Master How could he spoil this young brat?

"Master!" Hugh said, "If I make a mistake, please educate me. I won't so much as frown."

Well, that was very manly of him.

Andrius liked to teach men like him. The Lycantroops' Eight Commanders were all trained under his discipline and guidance!

Ring, ring, ring-

The three were chatting when Andrius' phone suddenly rang.

The caller ID showed that it was Belarus.

After answering the phone, Belarus' anxious voice sounded, "Andrius, is Luna with you?"

"No." Andrius was stunned for a moment and asked, "What happened, Grandpa Belarus?"

Belarus sighed and said truthfully, "She called earlier, saying she was coming to Crestfall Manor for dinner, but the food has turned cold, and she still hasn't shown up.

"I've been trying to call her, but her phone is turned off. I'm a little worried."

Andrius immediately sensed something amiss. He said to Belarus, "Calm down, Grandpa Belarus. I'll go find her."

After hanging up, he turned to Dax and said, "Luna might be in trouble. I'll go to New Moon Corporation to see what's going on."

Dax realized that something was wrong when he saw Andrius frown. He hurriedly said, "Just let me know if you need anything."

Then, he told Hugh, "Hugh, stay with your master and report to me if anything happens."

In New Moon Corporation, Andrius' arrival immediately caused a stir.

However, he did not have time to deal with those trivial matters now and went straight to the CEO's office

"An-"

In the office was New Moon Corporation's current chief secretary Although she had not met Andrus in person before, she had seen him in videos and knew about Luna and his story. Thus, when she saw Andrius enter, she immediately stood up to greet him, but she did not know how to address him Andrius heart sank when he did not see Luna. He interrupted the secretary's words and said, "Is Ms. Crestfall here?"

"No, she left the office about an hour ago, saying she was going home for dinner."

An hour ago!

Andrius' frown deepened. He left New Moon Corporation and went to Dream's Waterfront.

Along the way, he even called Athena to ask, but Luna had sent Athena somewhere else on an errand and she was not together with Luna.

In Dream's Waterfront, Andrius' heart was heavy when he stared at the empty room.

Creak...

At that moment, the door opened from the outside. Andrius immediately turned to look.

It was not Luna, but Harry and Belarus who had found their way here.

"Andrius!" Belarus said nervously, "Luna is the backbone of the Crestfall family now. You must find her

"That's right. Now that Luna is missing, the entire family is in turmoil." Harry was also anxious

"Don't worry, Grandpa Belarus." Andrius reassured him, "The public security in Sumeria is quite good, and the Crestfall family has no enemies. Luna will be fine."

There was one thing he left out.

The Crestfall family had no enemies, but he did, and they were extremely powerful.

However, speaking it out would only add to their anxiety, and it was just a hunch on Andrius' part.

Belarus and Harry's expressions improved slightly.

After leaving Dream's Waterfront, Andrius said to Hugh, "Contact your father immediately and have him seal off the entirety of Sumeria. We have to find Luna even if we need to turn over every stone on the road!"

Hugh did not know who Luna was at first. However, after hearing Belarus' words, he realized that the missing person seemed to be his master's wife, so he became very proactive.

"Yes. Master."

Hugh immediately called Dax

Andrius contacted Noir. "Noir, Luna is missing. Get the Lycantroops' information network and the Hawkeye Group's intelligence system operational immediately. Find out Luna's whereabouts as quickly as possible"
