

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea

Chapter 1031

“Heh...”

Seeing this scene, not only did Tobias remain composed but also displayed a hint of disdain. “The Argentum Qilin Spear is a priceless treasure that has been passed down in the Medicine Sect for hundreds of years.

“Even the Sect Master needs to use his inner energy to lift it. If a little brat like you can raise that spear, I’ll write my name backward!”

The next moment, as if responding to Tobias’ challenge, Andrius effortlessly raised the Argentum Qilin Spear with a single hand and held it toward the sky, exuding an air of confidence.

Under the scorching sun and the rustling breeze, he stood there like a valiant hero!

“W–what...”

The elders were left speechless.

The Argentum Qilin Spear was made up of special materials and was extremely heavy. Even the Sect Master could barely lift it with the help of his inner energy.

However, it was not nearly enough to use it against enemies.

After all, how could a person swing a spear if simply wielding it was already a challenge?

However, Andrius managed to raise it so effortlessly. It did not look like he was forcing himself at all. It was like the spear was made for him.

If not for the fact that Tobias was witnessing this with his own eyes, he would have scolded anyone who told him what happened. It was simply unbelievable.

“Andrius’ physical strength is really quite amazing,” someone said, and the elders immediately snapped back to their senses.

Yes, it was just physical strength.

To fully harness the power of the Argentum Qilin Spear, one had to combine it with the Medicine Sect’s ultimate technique, the Burden of Nine Skies!

How could an outsider like Andrius have learned it?

Swoosh!

The next moment, Andrius leaped down and took the initiative to confront Tobias and the others.

“Hah!”

Tobias sneered and signaled the elders, who each unleashed their ultimate techniques to subdue Andrius.

Andrius remained unafraid. He swung the Argentum Qilin Spear and demonstrated the Burden of Nine Skies.

The first form, second form, third form....

Whoosh...

Andrius' movement became increasingly faster, elusive, and unstoppable. The spear emitted a radiant glow, like white waves on a river surface or a ferocious dragon crossing the sea.

In one sweeping motion, he defeated all the elders and broke their collaboration.

Whoosh!

Andrius did not stop there. He leaped into the air and lunged at one of the elders. He was increasingly frustrated with Tobias' repeated targeting and decided to teach these elders a lesson.

Once they felt pain and fear, they would think twice before causing trouble again.

Swoosh...

Just as the tip of the spear was inches away from the elder, another spear appeared from the side.

With a cold gleam, the spear thrust forward like a dragon.

It was the Medicine Sect Master, Wade Klein!

Swish!

Wade wanted to test Andrius' skills and started demonstrating the Burden of Nine Skies without a word.

He could tell that Andrius was using the third form, so he used the third form as well.

As the two spears continuously collided, Wade sensed that Andrius was using the strength of a late-stage

Martial Emperor.

However, the shockwaves from the spear tips made his arm tingle.

Wade was stunned and carefully looked over.

To his shock, the spear that Andrius was holding was the Argentum Qilin Spear!

It was a treasured weapon he cherished but could not lift, let alone wield. However, Andrius held it effortlessly as if it had been custom-made for him.

“Andrius! The Burden of Nine Skies always emphasized lightness and agility, so a lighter spear is preferred. Why are you using the heavy Argentum Qilin Spear?”

Wade was not concerned about the loss of the precious spear. He was just worried that Andrius was on the wrong path. If that was the case, all his recent training would be in vain.

Andrius replied confidently, “Sect Master Klein, although the Burden of Nine Skies emphasizes speed and agility on the surface, it prioritizes skill over technique, so a heavier spear is preferable.

“That’s what the guardian taught me when I was in the restricted area.”

The guardian!

As soon as that name was spoken, Wade, Tobias, and everyone else’s expressions changed.

The guardian was a legendary figure in the Medicine Sect. He was a mysterious and awe-inspiring person known by everyone in the Medicine Sect. Everyone, including the First Elder and Wade, dreamed of obtaining guidance from the guardian.

However, no matter how much they yearned and prayed, they were never able to meet the guardian, let alone receive his guidance.

Andrius was an outsider of the sect, yet he obtained guidance from the guardian....

It was enough to make everyone envious!

Wade’s eyes gleamed with excitement at Andrius’ words. “Andrius, come.

Let’s have a little spar. I want to see how powerful your Burden of Nine Skies is after being guided by the guardian!”

Swish-

Wade swept his spear as he spoke, creating a frightening arc of light.

Tobias, Vincent, and the others all raised their brows, their faces filled with curiosity. They also wanted to see Andrius' true strength.

"Well..." Andrius hesitated. "Sect Master Klein, to be honest, I was just testing the waters earlier and didn't use much of my strength. If we fight now, I'm afraid that I'll hurt you." It was not an exaggeration. Andrius was well aware of the power of the Burden of Nine Skies.

"Hahaha..." Wade burst out in laughter and continued, "Andrius, if you want to impress everyone, you need to show your true strength. Silence them with overwhelming power!"

That was Wade's true purpose.

Andrius had reached the realm of Martial God. With the guardian's guidance, his Burden of Nine Skies.

was enough to overpower Tobias and the others.

He was not worried about Andrius. He was worried that Tobias and the others would foolishly provoke.

Andrius and end up severely injured or killed. In the end, it would be the Medicine Sect that suffered.

"Then, let's fight!" Andrius held up the Argentum Qilin Spear and swung it, looking handsome and elegant "Be careful, Andrius," Wade warned, then immediately unleashed the Burden of Nine Skies, starting with the fifth form.

In an instant, the entire area was shrouded in a piercing cold light..

The spear in Wade's hands moved rapidly, occasionally glinting dangerously like clusters of plum blossoms blooming amidst snow.

However, Andrius also used the fifth form when he recognized Wade's movements.

In just a few seconds, he forced Wade back step by step. The terrifying dominance left Wade struggling to catch his breath, and he had to use the sixth form to counter.

However, the results were far from satisfying. Even his sixth form could not match Andrius's fifth form. It was incredibly suffocating and humiliating.

Wade could only use the seventh form to hold his ground. Although he was still at a disadvantage, it was no longer a one-sided beating.

“Hiss... That guy has actually reached the Martial God realm!”

“As a Martial God, the fifth form of his Burden of Nine Skies is enough to gain the upper hand against the Sect Master’s seventh form. The guardian’s guidance is truly amazing.”

“It seems... we’ve been overly arrogant.”

“We weren’t just arrogant. Challenging Andrius, who has learned the Burden of Nine Skies, is like courting death. We should thank him for sparing our lives!”

Seeing this, the elders could not help but smile wryly.

They could not accept it and were unwilling to admit that Andrius was stronger than them.

However, facts spoke louder than words. Everything was clear to see.

When Wade led a group to Mount Tiger Mountain, Tobias’ group stayed behind to guard the Medicine

Sect and did not witness Andrius’ battle with Norvin. Only now did they realize Andrius’ strength.

They were envious and fearful.

Andrius withdrew the spear and smiled. “Sect Master Klein, is this enough?”

“Yes, yes.” Wade’s face was a mixture of amazement and dejection as he laughed self-deprecatingly. “If we continued fighting, you would’ve dismantled these old bones of mine.”

Andrius chuckled.

“Sect Master Klein, I’ve already almost mastered the Burden of Nine Skies. I will always remember the kindness of the Medicine Sect. I’ll arrive on time for the Ancient Martial Assembly. Farewell.” Andrius nodded to Wade.

“Farewell.” Wade also nodded back.

Andrius turned to leave.

Wade watched Andrius until he became a distant dot, then turned around to stare at Tobias and the others coldly.

“You’ve all seen Andrius’ strength. He entered the restricted area with my permission, and he also received the guardian’s recognition, who passed down the exquisite Burden of Nine Skies to him...

“Trying to provoke him is the same as asking for death. If I had arrived three seconds later, one of you here would’ve met a tragic end!”

Tobias and the other elders hung their heads at the reprimand, not daring to utter a single word.

If Andrius had started with his full strength, even with greater numbers, they would have suffered casualties.

“Also...” Wade said indifferently, “Andrius is a Martial God now and has cultivated the Medicine Sect’s ultimate technique. He’s our primary force to contend against Norvin and the Swallow family. He also holds the key to the mysterious Klein family treasure.

“In other words, the future of the Medicine Sect rests on his shoulders. I hope that there won’t be a next

His words made the elders realize the gravity of the situation.

“Yes!” they all responded sincerely.

In the Royal Gardens in Sumeria, Andrius’ sudden appearance brought surprise and joy to Luna and Halle, who were cultivating in the courtyard.

“Andrius!”

“Hubby!”

Halle and Luna called out simultaneously.

Andrius did not take a private jet and flew back on a commercial flight this time to give the two women a surprise. He felt much more at ease when he saw that the atmosphere was not as tense as before.

“Hubby!” Luna glanced at Halle and said proudly, “I’ve completely mastered the Martial King realm and can freely control my inner energy now. I’m also much more adept in battle than before.”

As she spoke, she demonstrated her abilities to Andrius.

Andrius nodded.

Halle was not to be outdone and said, “Andrius, I have also stabilized my power. I have a feeling that it won’t be long before I break through to the Martial King realm.”

She also demonstrated her progress to Andrius. At the end, she shot Luna a provocative glance.

In these days during Andrius' absence, the two of them often sparred and had cultivation competitions in the large courtyard of Royal Gardens. They regained some of their sisterly relationship from the past.

Andrius nodded in satisfaction. "Your cultivation is doing well. If you continue like this, it won't be long before you make significant progress."

"Hehe."

The two women smiled.

Andrius asked casually, "Luna, has Sumeria been peaceful lately? Has anything happened?"

"It's relatively peaceful," Luna thought about it and answered.

Andrius was relieved.

"Wait!" Luna suddenly frowned and said, "Something happened a few days ago. The Southern Warzone Master, Dax Wimbleton, came here to find you."

Dax?

Why did he not just call?

Andrius felt uneasy.

"Luna and Halle, you two stay here for now. I'm going to the Southern Warzone headquarters to find out what's going on."

With that, he left quickly without waiting for them to answer.

Along the way, he tried calling Dax, but the latter did not pick up.

He called Hugh as well, but still, no one picked up.

This made Andrius' unease intensify.

Upon arriving at the main gate of the Southern Warzone headquarters, the guards recognized Andrius and greeted him respectfully.

"Wolf King."

"Wolf King."

Andrius nodded and said, "Bring me to Dax."

Upon hearing those words, the guards exchanged a troubled look.

Then, the one on the left said, "Wolf King, some mysterious people came to the Southern Warzone a few days ago and took Master Wimbleton away."

He was taken away by mysterious people?

Andrius' expression shifted as he asked, "What about his son, Hugh?"

"Hugh... hasn't been seen for a long time," the guard replied after thinking about it.

Andrius's expression changed again.

Neither Dax nor Hugh could be reached on their phones, and they had both gone missing.

Andrius continued to ask, "Do you have any information about the mysterious people?"

"No." The guard shook his head and said, "They were dressed quite strangely. Most of them wore long robes."

Andrius's expression changed.

Long robes! That's what people in the ancient martial world commonly wore. Andrius remembered that Dax told him that he was also from an ancient martial family.

Could the Fuller family be involved in this?

At that thought, he immediately went out and called Kate. "Kate, where's the Fuller family in Kiyoto?"

"The Fuller family... They're about seventy to eighty kilometers east of Kiyoto, in a valley called Mount Serpens." Then, she asked curiously, "Why do you ask?"

Andrius said in a low voice, "My friend is in trouble. I suspect it may be related to the Fuller family, so I'm planning to go there to check."

Hearing this, Kate replied, "That might not be convenient. Something recently happened with the Fullers.

They've closed their gates and issued warnings not to approach. Anyone who comes near is considered an enemy of the Fullers."

Andrius's expression grew even graver.

The Fuller family sealed their gates, and Dax and Hugh went missing. All this happened during the time he was cultivating in seclusion. He found it hard to believe that there was no connection.

Thus, he immediately called Luna. "Luna, I think Dax is in trouble. I need to borrow your Borrow the Dragon Manor?

Luna paused for a split second and instinctively asked, "What happened, hubby? Why do you need the Dragon Manor?"

“Something’s happened.” Andrius explained briefly and said, “I suspect Dax was taken back to the Fuller family, so I want you to lend me the Dragon Manor to go to the Fullers’ residence to retrieve him. It would be best if all the experts in the Dragon Manor could come to assist me.”
Dax!

Luna remembered him. When the Crestfalls and New Moon Corporation encountered many troubles during their rise, it was always the Southern Warzone Master, Dax Wimbleton, who had resolved them.

Now that Dax was in trouble, she had no reason to refuse.

“Okay, come back for now. The Dragon Manor experts are commanded using the Dragon Manor Token.

I’ll pass the token to you,” Luna agreed without hesitation.

When Andrius returned to the Royal Gardens, Luna and Halle immediately approached him.

Luna handed the Dragon Manor Token to Andrius and said, “Hubby, I’ve already summoned all the experts in the Dragon Manor and had them wait in Kiyoto. When you get there, you can use the token to inform them of the exact location.”

Andrius nodded and took the token.

Then, Luna also told him about the coded signals for communication. As she spoke, she suddenly had a different idea.

“Why don’t I go to Kiyoto with you and help rescue Dax from the Fullers? I’m also a Martial King expert now and can support you.”

“Me too!” Halle chimed in, wanting to contribute.

Andrius smiled and said, “Although the situation is troublesome, it hasn’t reached that point. Just stay here and get familiar with your inner energy. There’s no need to trouble you this time.”

Although the Fullers were strong, they were not significant enough for Andrius to bring his family along to deal with them.

“Okay.” Luna knew that it was hard to change Andrius’ mind and dropped the subject. She only reminded

“I know.”

Andrius smiled, left the Royal Gardens, and went straight to Mount Serpens. In a hall in the Medicine Sect, Wade was cultivating.

Kate walked over and said, "Grandpa, Andrius called me earlier."

Wade asked without opening his eyes, "What is that boy up to now?"

"He asked me the address of the Fullers." Kate said, "He said that a friend of his was taken away by the Fullers, and he wants to go there to take them back."

Upon hearing those words, Wade's expression suddenly changed as he opened his eyes. "What did you say?"

"Andrius asked the address of the Fullers and is going there to take his friend back?" Wade looked at Kate with an unusually serious tone.

He suddenly remembered something.

An incident happened in the Fuller family some time ago. They had brought back all the lost members of the family and even the external branch members, then declared that they were sealing their gates, refusing to see anyone else.

Andrius' friend might be among those who were brought back.

However, if Andrius went to retrieve his friend, it would undoubtedly not be peaceful!

Kate also sensed the gravity of the situation and said, "Yes, Andrius asked me about three to four hours ago."

Wade's expression became unsightly. "The alliance between the Medicine Sect and the three great families must not suffer any setbacks at this critical juncture! Let's go! We're heading to the Fuller family immediately."
