

Married At First Sight Chapter 2927

Married At First Sight Chapter 2927-Camryn replied without thinking: “I think she looks like my good sister, Carrie. She has a similar body shape and a similar voice, but her face is different.”

After a pause, she added, “I guess it’s not her. She went to the villa yesterday to complain to my mother-in-law about me, saying that I was too cruel and wanted her to starve to death. She had been there for a long time, asking my mother-in-law for money.

Later, after Callum and I went back, my mother-in-law took a bag of money and asked me to give it to Carrie. It was all loose money of 15 cents. She only put three or two pieces of $100 on it for Carrie. She thought that the bag contained money in $100 denominations.”

After Camryn mentioned the object of suspicion, Serenity immediately said, “Yes, yes, she looks like Carrie. When you said it, I thought it was her. When she came to my store yesterday, I saw her Her body shape seems very familiar to her. Camryn, tell me, can that woman be your good sister? Could she be dressed up?”

After Camryn thought about it, she said, “Carrie has no money now. She can’t afford to hire a bodyguard. The bodyguard calls her Mrs. Carrie doesn’t even have a boyfriend, so it’s impossible for her to get married. Besides, why does she have to dress up with makeup?

With Carrie’s character, if she wants to come to us, she will come directly and won’t dress up.”

Carrie was too arrogant, and it was her arrogance that made her make big mistakes, offending Zachary and others. Then her mother followed suit and made the same mistake, so they all went in, and she was able to take the opportunity to get back everything that belongs to her.

To put it bluntly, Camryn’s turnaround was thanks to Carrie’s arrogance.

Serenity had only met Carrie a few times and knew her personality. She said, “What you said makes sense. Carrie has no money and no boyfriend now. The main reason is that her personality is too arrogant, and she loves to show off. He won’t dress up and appear in front of us as a stranger.

Next time I have a chance to meet her, I'll ask around and find out who her husband's family is and see if she really has one."

Jasmine interrupted and said, "Serenity, didn't Zachary make people keep an eye on Carrie? Just ask Zachary, and you'll know Carrie's whereabouts."

Last time the Matriarch Farrell came over, she thought of using Carrie. Later, the people left behind by Matriarch Farrell were removed. Matriarch Farrell had no choice but to give up cooperation with Carrie after knowing that she was trying to scare the snake.

Later, Liberty went to Jensburg, and Matriarch Farrell focused on Liberty.

Matriarch Farrell knew that the person from Wiltspoon who was pushing out to compete with Kathryn for head of the family was Liberty.

The power here in Wiltspoon was too great, and Matriarch Farrell was from Jensburg, so it was difficult to exert it. After suffering the loss, Matriarch Farrell understood clearly that a strong dragon could defeat a local snake, not to mention that Matriarch Farrell was no longer a strong dragon.

She could only retreat to Jensburg, which was at least her base camp. All the forces of Matriarch Farrell were in Jensburg.

Serenity said, "Yes, I'll ask Zachary tonight."

The last time she mentioned this matter to Zachary, since there was no one to suspect and Zachary never cared about other women, Serenity stopped thinking about it. Unexpectedly, she saw that person who looked like Carrie again today. She had a target of suspicion; it would be much easier to handle.

"However, I think it might not be Carrie." Jasmine said, "It's not like there are people with the same body shape and similar voices. Serenity, do you still remember that Analia found a stand-in for Zachary? The stand-in for Zachary that Analia found was a bit similar to Zachary, with a similar body shape. But that can't be Zachary. Sometimes people who are not blood relatives can look alike. Some of the substitutes that celebrities find are like twins. It's hard to tell which one is the star and which one is a substitute."

Camryn also felt that it couldn't be Carrie. Even if she felt that the other person was very familiar,.

But Carrie was not married. If it were really Carrie, she would have cursed them when she saw them. Even if she could barely hold back from cursing, the look in their eyes would be as if they were quenched with poison.

Married At First Sight Chapter 2928—“Serenity, don’t worry about someone who is not relevant to you.” Camryn said.

Serenity smiled and said, “I won’t bother. I’ll just mention it when Zachary comes back in the evening when we talk to him. If it’s really Carrie, then she has a big backer, and she doesn’t know how to hold it back. What big move is waiting for Camryn?”

“Anyway, Camryn, you have to be careful.” Serenity reminded Camryn.

She also needed to be careful herself.

Fortunately, although her life was very comfortable, she did not dare to be careless and maintained a high degree of vigilance at all times.

Related to the Farrell family in Jensburg,

Matriarch Farrell was able to cruelly kill her eldest sister, who brought her up, so she would not be willing to let the position of head of the family return to the hands of her eldest sister's descendants.

Even if Serenity is followed by bodyguards when she goes in and out, she will defend herself with fists and kicks, but she is carrying a baby in her belly, and if she is bumped, something could happen easily.

"I will. After Carrie comes out, I will be on guard against her."

Camryn looked outside and said, "The rain has stopped. I'll go back to the flower shop first."

Serenity said, "Don't you stay a little longer and eat with us?"

Camryn smiled and said, "You two are both pregnant. I can't let you cook for me. If I do, I can't compliment you on my cooking skills. I'm afraid you two won't be able to eat. Let's go back to the store and order takeout."

She could still cook before she went blind. Because of her mother's dislike of her and Carrie's bullying and punishment, she could cook and do a lot of housework very early. But after ten years of blindness, her little cooking skills have long become unfamiliar.

Now, even if she wanted to cook, Callum would not agree.

Callum was the best cook among the nine young masters of the York family. In her free time, Callum cooked, and she was only responsible for eating.

Jasmine smiled and said, "We are not picky eaters, but I am afraid that you won't be able to eat the food we cooked. Your Callum's cooking skills are very good. Camryn, you are a good person. When I first met you, you looked thinner. Now you have become much mellower after being raised by the second young master, and your complexion is also very good."

Camryn touched her face and said, "I also think I've put on some weight recently, and Callum keeps saying I'm thin."

Her face was stained with a bit of red cloud.

Camryn said, "I won't talk to you anymore. When the students get out of school, you should be busy. I'll go back first."

School will be on winter vacation soon.

During the winter vacation, students needed to go to the bookstore to buy winter vacation homework. Then teachers of each subject would assign some more homework, so that even if the students were on vacation, they had no time at home and had to do homework every day.

It's good to finish homework before the new year. Many students were still doing homework during the New Year, and the number of students rushing to do homework reached its peak two days before the start of school.

Serenity and Jasmine sent Camryn out of the store together.

Camryn's bodyguards came over quickly.
