

MARRIED AT FIRST SIGHT BY GU LINGFEI

Chapter 3051

Soon, Callum smiled and said, "It doesn't matter what he is doing over there. Everyone has something they want to do. He is not a three-year-old child anymore. We don't need to worry about him as older brothers. Wife, please sleep a little longer; I'm going out."

Callum changed into sportswear to go outside for a morning run.

Wildridge Manor was big enough, and he only needed to run half a lap, which was enough exercise.

Most of the time, Callum would just run two laps outside his yard instead of running around the entire villa, as that would be too time-consuming.

Although he didn't have to go to work today, he didn't want to waste so much time, as he still had to come back to spend time with Camryn.

After Callum went out for a morning run, Camryn continued to catch up on her sleep.

Sometimes she envied Callum. He always had more energy than her, even when he had the same rest time.

After Callum went downstairs, he didn't see his parents, so he guessed that they hadn't gotten up yet.

It was cold in the morning, and it was only after six o'clock. Everyone was still sleeping in bed.

Even his family's chef hadn't started yet. He didn't know if his family would eat at home or go to his uncle's place to eat.

Seeing Callum coming downstairs, the chef quickly asked him, "Good morning, Second Young Master, do you need to prepare breakfast for you? I haven't started work yet, so I asked the Butler, but the Butler said he didn't know yet, so I didn't dare to move."

Callum replied gently: "The second young lady said that she would go to my uncle's place to have breakfast together. You don't need to prepare our breakfast."

The chef smiled: "Okay, I understand."

If the owner doesn't eat at home, the chef can just prepare breakfast for the workers. He can cut his workload in half if the employees' breakfast is less complicated and varied.

The chef said, "Today is colder than yesterday. Second, young master, do you want to go out for morning exercise so early? You go to the gym the same way."

Callum smiled and said, "It's cold in the morning, so I need to go out for a run. After running, I don't feel cold anymore. I also like to go out in the morning and blow in the cold wind to make my mind clearer."

The chef smiled and said no more.

Neither the second young master nor the other young masters seem to be afraid of the cold.

Unless it rained, they could go out for a morning run at the same time every day. If they didn't have to socialize in the evening, they would go to the gym to work out.

Visit Novelebook.com to read full content.

Visit Novelebook.com to read full content.

Visit Novelebook.com to read full content.

He also wanted to learn from young masters to get up every morning and run in the morning.

Thinking that it would be too cold to get up early, the chef backed down. As a middle-aged person, it was normal to gain weight.

Callum didn't know that his chef would have so many ideas. He left the house, walked through his small yard, and jogged outside to the central main house.

He could smell the fragrance as soon as he entered the house. He quickly jumped into the kitchen.

Chapter 3052

Sure enough, he saw Tatum wearing an apron and busy in the kitchen alone.

"Tatum, our family is coming to have breakfast with Grandma. You have to prepare a portion for my family."

Callum was afraid that he would be late, and Tatum had already prepared breakfast. Without their share, his beloved wife's stomach would not be satisfied.

Tatum didn't even turn his head or look at him and said, "Didn't you see that I'm still busy? My second brother got up early; please help me."

Zachary and Callum had returned to the villa, and Josh and Jasmine had also come over. No one needed to say anything; Tatum wisely prepared breakfast for everyone.

As long as grandma was at home, it went without saying that everyone came to the main house of the center to eat.

Callum quickly replied, "Second brother has to go for a morning run, so I don't have time to help you yet. Besides, everyone prefers to eat the food you cook. Even at breakfast, the food you cook is more delicious."

"Tatum, tell me, your brothers were all trained by grandma. How come you are better than us at cooking? I think you have surpassed your third brother."

After eating, Callum praised his cousin for good things. Anyway, he didn't need to spend money to say good things.

Tatum turned his head to look at Callum, then turned back and said, "You don't need to praise me, second brother. I know how much I weigh. It's not that my brothers are bad; it's just that you don't study as hard as I do. I am starting a business, which is also in the catering industry."

He really liked cooking, so he started his own business and firmly followed the catering industry.

Unlike Kevin, whose Zachary assigned him a position, Kevin's enthusiasm for cooking was definitely not as high as his.

"Second brother, you're really not praising you; you are really good. By the way, Tatum, I heard from my aunt that you are going to Annenburg in Province X. If you want to be a chef, our family is enough for you to show off your skills."

Tatum replied, "Because I want to go, so I go."

Callum: "If you don't want your second brother to know, just don't tell me. I just don't ask. Okay, you work first. I go out for a couple of runs. Is the eldest brother up?"

Tatum still didn't look back and replied, "It's cold, and it's the weekend. Everyone is sleeping in. Grandma hasn't gotten up yet. Second brother, you're the first to get up."

He turned to look at Callum and asked jokingly, "Second brother, how is your relationship with my second sister-in-law?"

Callum said, "Screw you; your second brother and your second sister-in-law are so good to each other."

Tatum actually asked him implicitly whether he was dissatisfied with his desires.

Tatum smiled lowly. "That's good. I thought the second sister-in-law misunderstood the second brother and drove him to sleep in the study last night."

□

Chapter 3053

Callum said, "I told you it's okay. Your second sister-in-law is not an unreasonable person. I also behave upright and sit upright. I will never do anything to disgrace your second sister-in-law. Don't worry; nothing will happen to you. When you have a wife in the future, you should also learn from us older brothers. If you marry someone who will be pampered at home, you must know how to pamper and coax your wife. Husbands and wives must trust each other and don't lose the fine tradition of our war family men."

Doting on their wives and being afraid of their wives were the fine traditions of men in the York family.

When they were children, they asked their grandma why they wanted to be a man who doted on his wife.

Grandma told them that as long as the wife was of good character, sensible, and loved her, she could make a fortune, and everything in the family would be prosperous.

Moreover, a virtuous wife brings few disasters to her husband. It is said that marrying a good wife can bring happiness to three generations.

Tatum smiled and said, "I never dare forget what Grandma taught me. I'm still young, and I'm not in a hurry to get a wife. I still have three brothers who have not received their marriage certificates."

Kevin had a girlfriend and had not yet obtained a marriage certificate.

Not to mention Evan and Elian.

Grandma had chosen candidates for them, and Evan was taking action, but they didn't know what the other half of Evan looked like, and they hadn't seen her yet.

Elian had not taken action yet.

Tatum didn't know if Elora was as outstanding as Grandma said.

Such a picky mouth...

Fortunately, he could cook, and the food was delicious.

Otherwise, if grandma chose such a person for him, he would have to spend a long time learning how to cook before he dared to pursue Elora.

Tatum seriously suspected that his grandma trained his brothers to be proficient in everything just to make their future wives happy. They know everything; what else do they need from their wives? A wife doesn't just enjoy life.

The same was true for his parents.

Seeing that his parents were living a good life, Tatum did not reject that kind of life.

Callum smiled and said nothing, then quickly left the kitchen and went out for a run.

The morning at the villa was quiet.

The workers had started to go to work, and they just needed to do their jobs silently.

Anyone who saw Callum would smile and say hello.

The sky was getting brighter, and the sun was emerging from the east. Gradually, he could feel that it was not as cold as when he first woke up.

Winter in Wiltspoon was like this.

Sometimes on sunny days, the daytime temperature could reach 25 to 26 degrees Celsius, making people unable to believe that it was winter.

Visit Novelebook.com to read full content.

"Grandma, the redbuds on both sides of the mountain road are in bloom. Let's go and enjoy the flowers."

Callum heard Serenity's voice.

"Are those trees on both sides of the road redbuds?"

It was Camryn who asked the question.

Camryn worked in a flower shop, but she was blind before. She knew many flowers, but she had never seen what they looked like.