

Chapter 930 Liam's Arrangement

---

Shortly thereafter, Liam made a phone call to Carsen.

Once connected, Liam directly asked, "How's everything progressing?"

Carsen quickly responded, "Almost complete. I've unraveled the forces behind Kingland Group and the Dark Gang, encountering minimal resistance. However, one aspect remains elusive. I've discovered a mysterious figure behind the Kingland Group, possibly the true power broker! Also, I've organized the Murray family to commence preparations for the banquet in three days in Double Stars."

Liam nodded, having long suspected a hidden influence behind Kingland Group. He wasn't surprised to learn of a revered figure associated with them from Carsen.

Liam then instructed, "Excellent work, Carsen. Now, I have a new assignment for you. Eliminate the Dark Gang for me."

Carsen, on the other end, acknowledged with a simple "okay." Then, he hesitated before asking, "When should I begin? Immediately? I'm currently at the Murray family's residence. They have been extremely hospitable."

Liam could distinctly hear a woman's moans in the background.

He deduced the nature of this hospitality and was momentarily speechless.

Carsen, raised on Genesis Island, was unaccustomed to such worldly indulgences and easily swayed by them. However, his straightforwardness and dedication to his tasks had earned Liam's trust.

Noticing Carsen's indulgence, Liam, with a hint of amusement, ordered, "Proceed now! You can return to their 'hospitality' after completing the mission. Understood?"

Carsen, though hesitant, agreed to Liam's directive.

Liam then ended the call.

Beside Liam, Watkins, who had been observing Liam's exchange with Carsen, was astounded.

The ease with which Liam and Carsen discussed dismantling the Dark Gang left him in awe of their capabilities.

Watkins was enveloped in a sense of mystery about Liam that he couldn't quite explain.

He also realized that the name "Carsen" sounded familiar.

Watkins furrowed his brow slightly, lost in thought.

After a moment of contemplation, it clicked. 'General Carsen' was the name he had heard in relation to Dragon Manor.

It turned out this renowned figure of Salem was merely a subordinate of Liam.

Thinking of this, Watkins was astounded.

He knew more about this Five-Star General's power than Julie.

Even during the heyday of the Hoffman family, this Five-Star General was someone they had to show respect to!

Watkins, originally doubting Liam's claim, now started to believe that Liam could wrest control of Kingland Group from Gallagher.

Meanwhile, Julie, unaware of Watkins' thoughts, harbored complete faith in Liam.

Her beautiful eyes flickered, secretly thinking that Liam could reclaim what he had lost as he had said.

Just then, Julie's phone rang.

It was Yesenia, crying in despair.

"Julie, Newell's entire family, they're monsters! They have AIDS and infected me on purpose! The Williams family doesn't have a single good person among them! They all deserve to die! I've been diagnosed with AIDS, and I can't bear to live anymore!"

Julie, deeply concerned, tried to reassure her mom, "Mom, don't panic. AIDS isn't necessarily fatal, and we have Liam. Tell me where you are. I'm coming to you right away!"

Seeing this, Liam instructed Watkins to keep a vigilant eye on the factory. He then readied himself to depart with Julie.
