

Chapter 1003 Amazing Improvement

Shayla was scared of Rosefinch Hospital's power, but that didn't mean she was scared of the guy before her.

Her expression turned sour quickly when she replied, "No need for the stay. Move it!"

When Shayla stood her ground, the president of the hospital became angry.

"You think Rosefinch Hospital is a walk-in park? What's your deal? Don't even think about leaving! Or you'll regret it!" he shouted.

Seeing him drop the act, Shayla smirked and flexed her power. Her aura as a top-tier Primogem Warrior squashed the man, leaving him breathless.

"I said I'm taking them to leave. If you got a problem, come see me at Flame Gang. I'm Shayla, leader of the Flame Gang and one of the four lords of the Saint Society!" she declared.

The man's face went dark, but he backed off. "So, you're Shayla? Fine, got it! I work for Townsend. I'll tell him about your stunt here!"

At the mention of Townsend, Shayla's expression turned grave. But she shook it off quickly.

Without wasting time, she walked out of Rosefinch Hospital, bringing Liam and Julie along back to the Hoffman family's residence.

Back at the Hoffman family home, Shayla clocked that Julie's condition was getting worse but was not on a life-threatening level yet.

Liam, on the other side, was on the brink of trouble.

His body was blowing up like a balloon, and even his skin was going green.

Shayla knew Liam's situation was serious.

If she messed up, he might be dead!

Doubt suddenly clouded Shayla's eyes.

She sensed she was way too caught up on Liam.

Thinking back to when she had yanked Liam and Julie out of Rosefinch Hospital, not caring about blowing her cover, Shayla muttered to herself, "Are we up against the same foes, or... Or did I really fall for Liam?"

Sadly, Shayla couldn't dial in the answer.

But one thing she knew was Liam was different from those men she had met before!

Liam was upright and not a lascivious man. He had a solid moral compass, treasured his friends, and was powerful...

Lost in her thoughts, Shayla snapped back to reality when Liam's body had swollen to an extreme extent.

He was like a balloon ready to pop.

Then, Shayla saw blood gushing out from his body.

Shayla's face went pale. Ready to swoop in and save Liam, she froze as she watched his strength skyrocketed now!

She stared at Liam, totally shocked.

Liam's puffed-up body started shrinking.

To most people, this might not be worth mentioning. But to Shayla, a top-notch Primogem Warrior, it was crystal clear what was going down.

Liam was hitting that breakthrough bottleneck.

Shayla's eyes popped wide open. She had never imagined Liam would crack his ceiling in such a condition.

Realizing Liam was on the brink of a breakthrough, Shayla whipped out a bunch of primogems and put them next to him, juicing him up with the energy he needed.

However, Shayla had not expected that the speed at which Liam absorbed the energy was astonishing.

Almost ten percent of the primogem turned to dust in Liam's strength was soaring now.

Shayla was stunned and muttered, "He's hitting level five's top tier... He's peaking at level five now!"

In just half an hour, Liam's power surged to level five's peak!

But what blew Shayla's mind was Liam wasn't stopping there.

His breakthrough train was chugging ahead.

Shayla's eyes bulged with shock and disbelief.

Most people spent their whole lives stuck at level five.

For Liam to improve quickly like this?

It was too shocking!
