Chapter 1151

He had some level of mastery in the field of insect poison, since he read the Hades' Axiom and received some guidance from the Insect Ruler.

There was nothing that did not exist in the vast world.

Even with Andrius extraordinary capabilities, he still could not heal the insect poison on Bradley at the moment.

"What should we do?" Dax was quite surprised to hear that Andrius could not cure it.

"There's a doctor named Kelvin Leach in Murrfield." Andrius said slowly, "He has been studying insects for decades, and his experience is much richer than mine. Send someone to bring him here. He should be able to heal Bradley."

ended up and settled down temporarily.

Then, Andrius called Noir. "Noir, contact the Lycantroops intelligence network and the Hawkeye Group immediately. Investigate the situation at the Southern Wilds Prison in the past few days for any suspicious individuals or other clues."

"Got it, Andy!" Noir responded, hung up the phone, and promptly made the arrangements.

Half an hour later, he called back. "Andy, we just conducted a comprehensive investigation, but we didn't find any suspicious individuals around."

This news made Andrius' expression darken slightly. Not many people in Florence could easily subdue Bradley and do it so silently.

After hanging up the phone, Andrius sighed and said, "Perhaps... The only way now is to treat Bradley and have him tell us the details.

Otherwise, everything will be in vain. Luna saw his concern and consoled him. "Don't be too worried, hubby. The First War God has become powerful after becoming the Insect Soldier King. Anyone who's not a martial realm expert won't even be able to get close to him. Ms. Gibbs should be safe with him protecting her."

Andrius felt a bit more relieved.

The current situation was quite complex.

Bradley was still seriously injured.

The martial world was in chaos, and many factions obtained treasures from the demon snake after the Ancient Martial Assembly. There might be a significant breakthrough in their strengths after digesting them. The Insect Ruler's lineage would also undoubtedly make significant moves after obtaining the demon snake's heart.

In such a situation, if the First War God and Vivian were in trouble, then Andrius would truly be powerless.

At that thought, Andrius sat down and tried to cultivate the Hades' Axiom.

Unfortunately, his meridians were severed, and it was impossible to circulate inner energy. The method of acupuncture he used last time also failed to work.

Andrius failed. He could only rely on the most primitive method of breathing to maintain a weak immune system, but it could not keep up with the speed at which his inner energy was depleting. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

That was also the reason for Andrius' continuous decline in strength. "Hubby!" Luna saw him cultivating and asked with concern, "How's your inner energy now?"

"It's still the same..." Andrius shook his head and sighed. "At the current rate, I'll fall to the Martial King realm in less than half a month, Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel then after a month, I'll become a complete cripple."

The Martial King realm!

Acripple!

Those two terms struck Luna's heart, making her feel even more uncomfortable than if she were to become a cripple herself.

"Hubby... Don't worry, I'll be with you" Luna reached out to hold Andrius' hand, saying softly, "Even if you become a cripple, I'll take care of you every step of the way. Moreover, Master is still here. He won't sit idly by." Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel Old Hagstorm...

Andrius still felt like looking at Old Hagstorm was like seeing through a mist. He could not see him clearly.

"I hope that I can recover soon..."

He sighed and gripped Luna's soft hand.

Chapter 1152 "You will! You definitely will!" Luna agreed and nestled in Andrius' arms.

Andrius felt the warmth and fragrance in his arms and suddenly felt a flutter in his heart. Then, he felt his 'little brother' stand at attention.

After he cultivated the Hades Axiom, his resistance in this aspect became extremely weak.

Once a thought emerged, he could no longer control it, and it spread throughout his body like wildfire. Luna also felt his masculine energy. It was part of a snake's attributes.

Luna, who was constantly influenced by the demon snake's energy, suddenly felt her mouth go dry.

"Hubby..."

She twisted her hot body, looking up at Andrius.

What a look she gave him!

It was alluring, soft as silk, and hooked his soul.

Andrius could not hold back anymore. He pulled Luna into his arms and started the most primitive, intense, and fascinating battle between the two. The battle lasted until the sky grew dark and then light again.

The next day at noon, the two were still in bed, sound asleep. Knock, knock, knock!

"Wolf King, Warzone Master Wimbledon has brought Dr. Leach back." Someone suddenly knocked on the door to report.

Inside the room, Andrius and Luna were still intertwined. They suddenly stirred at the voice.

"I'll be right there," Andrius immediately sat up from the bed and responded while dressing quickly, ignoring the beautiful scene on the bed.

"Mm..."

Luna's body was soft as she blushed and began to dress too. A moment later, they arrived at the room where Bradley was.

Dax nodded at Andrius.

Kelvin had already understood the situation and began to use acupuncture on Bradley. However, he frowned. It was clear that Bradley's condition was much worse than expected.

After a while, Kelvin finished the acupuncture. He summoned the insects he used to treat Bradley and let out a long sigh.

Andrius' and Dax's expressions fell at the sigh.

"I can't save him." Kelvin said in a low voice, "The insect poison has penetrated deep into his bone marrow. Forgive me for my limited strength. I can't save his life. However..."

Just as Andrius' heart sank, Kelvin continued, "I can use insects to visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Andrius thought about it and said, "Do it, Dr. Leach."

"Alright."

After getting approval, Kelvin took out a white jade bottle. When he opened it, a fleshy and somewhat funny-looking insect crawled out. It quickly entered Bradley's mouth.

Then, Kelvin inserted several needles into Bradley's vital acupoints. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

"Ugh..." Suddenly, Bradley groaned on the bed and slowly opened his eyes. He woke up.

"Bradley, you're awake!"

ANING

Andrius knew that although this method was mysterious, it was based on burning vitality and would not last long. He had to make full use of the time left.

Thus, he immediately asked, "What happened? Who harmed you like this? Where is the First War God and Ms. Gibbs?"

Chapter 1153

"Wolf King!" Bradley's face became rosy, and there was a hint of brilliance in his eyes. "Last night, several masked individuals suddenly came to the door.

"They said they wanted to invite Ms. Gibbs to attend a banquet.

"Ms. Gibbs has always preferred the quiet and did not like interacting with people. After the First War God passed, she became even more reclusive and rarely dealt with anyone, so she refused on the spot.

"However, they forcibly took her away."

Masked individuals.

A banquet...

Andrius and Dax exchanged glances, feeling something suspicious.

masked individuals were extremely powerful. Even though the ar God has become the Insect Soldier King, he was not their ch at all."

Bradley continued, "He was subdued in less than a round. | took advantage of them underestimating me and secretly used an insect. technique, increasing my strength significantly for a short period, and managed to escape with my life barely intact.

"| know that their strength must have reached the legendary martial realm. Even if the entire Southern Wilds Prison mobilized its forces, it's impossible to contend with them."

At that point, Andrius' brows were deeply furrowed.

Sure enough, they were martial realm experts.

Fortunately, Bradley reacted quickly and was lucky, so he managed to save his life and leave a glimmer of hope.

“Thus, I deliberately ran in another direction and hid in a cave. I can’t die!”

Saying this, he looked at Andrius with pleading eyes.

However, Andrius saw that the light in his eyes was slowly dissipating.

“Over the years...” Bradley said firmly, “Since the First War God captured me, I’ve realized the deep sins that I committed. I’ve never thought about leaving and just missed my family in Murrfield.

“The First War God sympathized with me and granted me an opportunity to visit my family every year.

“Ms. Gibbs is also kindhearted. She often instructs her subordinates to take care of my family, ensuring their prosperity and preventing them from being bullied.

“I have never begged anyone in my life, but now... Wolf King, please.

I’m begging you. You must... save...

At that point, the light in his eyes quickly dissipated, and the color on his face also faded away, turning into a deathly gray. Then, he coughed up blood, and his body fell heavily on the bed, taking his last breath.

Everyone in the room fell silent.

Andrius’ expression was extremely solemn.

The other party must be from the martial world if they were able to deal with an Insect Soldier King easily. This was a significant matter

After a moment of contemplation, Andrius looked at Kelvin. “Dr. Leach, help check around the prison and see if you can find any traces of insects left by the other party.” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel “Got it!” Kelvin agreed and immediately went to handle it.

After a while, he came back.

He said with a disappointed expression, “Wolf King, forgive my limited abilities. The other party’s methods are too superior. They didn’t leave any traces behind.”

Andrius could not help but fall silent.

It seemed the other party came prepared and cut off all possible tracking methods. Andrius said to Dax, “Let’s check the surveillance and see if we can find anything.”

Dax smiled wryly and spoke as they walked toward the central control room, “To be honest, while you were on your way to the prison, I already checked the surveillance several times.”

He already checked it?

Andrius hurriedly asked, “Did you find anything?”

Dax shook his head slowly. “Apart from the surveillance cameras going black for a period of time midway, there’s nothing suspicious. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“According to the testimonies of the prisoners, I can confirm that the time the surveillance went back was when a fight and the subsequent Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel events played out.”

Chapter 1154

“As for the specific cause of the blackout, we couldn’t find out. I’ve had the technical department check multiple times. It wasn’t a problem with the equipment.”

That was a bit strange.

As they spoke, they arrived at the central control room.

Soon, Andrius saw the footage Dax mentioned, where the surveillance went black.

Hm?

He suddenly sensed something off.

He noticed that before the screen went completely black, there were some small black spots in the footage. However, the moment was very brief and only a fleeting glance, making it seem like a trick of the light.

However, Andrius was a martial realm expert, so his eyesight surpassed ordinary people's. Thus, he immediately ordered, "Wait. Slow down this footage by ten times."

"Yes, sir!"

The nearby technician immediately followed the order.

This time, Andrius saw it clearly, and so did Dax and the others.

First, a group of black dots appeared in the frame, then the entire image went completely black.

It was not a technical issue!

It was something physically blocking the surveillance cameras!

Upon seeing this, Kelvin suddenly exclaimed and immediately asked, "I get it! Where's the location of this camera?"

The technician opened a window and pointed to a concealed place in the distance, saying, "It's the camera for the western area, B-1032. It's that one!"

Kelvin glanced at it and went straight to the camera. It seemed he had discovered something. Andrius, Dax, and the others followed him.

Hiss...

After arriving under the camera, Kelvin immediately took out a crimson bottle and released an insect. The insect flew toward the direction of the camera, appearing very excited.

"It's the aura of an insect!" Kelvin narrowed his eyes slightly and said, with confidence.

They found it!

Andrius immediately ordered, "Can you track it?"

"Til try!"

Then, Kelvin urged the insect.

It flew in a certain direction.

Andrius and Kelvin exchanged a glance, then said at the same time, "Let's go!"

Seeing this, Luna was worried about Andrius' safety and also followed.

Dax and the others stayed behind.

Guided by the insect, Andrius, Kelvin, and Luna crossed mountains and ridges, and unexpectedly reached the deep mountains of the southern warzone. The further they went, the more unsettled Andrius felt.

ace was almost identical to the experimental base set up by the ond War God, but on a larger scale!

The area occupied was at least an acre, with buildings connected into a vast complex that could not be seen at a glance.

The discovery made Andrius' eyes widen.

Chapter 1155

"Wolf King..." Kelvin lowered his voice and asked, "What should we do now?"

Andrius glanced at the base, knowing they must not alert the enemy, and said, "Let's go back to the prison first. We'll tell Dax what happened here and have him mobilize manpower for investigation. "As for anything else, let's wait for the results before deciding." After saying that, Andrius calmly walked back.

Luna followed.

"Okay!" Kelvin nodded and followed behind Andrius..

The group traveled a long distance and returned to the Southern Wilds Prison.

Upon seeing them back, Dax immediately greeted them and asked in a low voice, "How was it? Did you find any leads?"

"There's an experimental base." Andrius shared the details of what he and Kelvin found and instructed, "However, the scale of the experimental base is quite large. It won't be easy for one or two people to overturn it. | want you to send people to investigate first."

As soon as he finished speaking, before Dax could arrange for people. to investigate, the prison warden, Lennon, spoke up, "Wolf King, Warzone Master, is that experimental base about forty kilometers. north, hidden in the mountains with no apparent traces?"

Andrius frowned slightly. "That's right."

"I know about this experimental base." Lennon met Andrius' gaze and said truthfully, "We discovered its existence during the last search operation. It's located on Scarlet Peak."

"At that time, we wanted to go in and investigate, but we were told that the base was established by many ministers and meritorious generals, so we didn't have the authority to enter."

"Thus, it was left unresolved. It'll likely be challenging to take action against this base."

Lennon shook his head with a touch of fear as he spoke. Challenging?

Andrius sneered. "This is the land of Florence, in the Southern Warzone. All of Florence's affairs, whether military or political, are under Dax's control."

Dax nodded naturally.

As the Warzone Master, he was the absolute ruler of this domain and possessed supreme power and authority.

"Dax, take troops there and surround the base. I'll come later." Andrius words carried an unmistakable tone of determination.

"Okay, I'll get ready now!" Andrius had saved Dax's life, so Dax never refused Andrius' orders and immediately went to make preparations.

Andrius called Noir. "Noir, lead the elite forces of the Lycan Manor to the Southern Wilds Prison now. There's an urgent mission."

"Got it, Andy. We'll be right there."

After hanging up the phone, Andrius looked in the direction of Scarlet Peak, lost in thought.

"Hubby..." Luna said worriedly, "According to the warden, there are high-ranking officials of Florence backing up this experimental base. Furthermore, there are martial realm experts among them. Are you really going to confront them head-on?"

Luna's worries were not unfounded.

Chapter 1156

Meanwhile, Dax mobilized ten thousand soldiers and personally led them to the experimental base on Scarlet Peak.

With such a massive deployment, anyone who paid attention would notice it.

Just as they entered the forest, Brandon Orwell, the person in charge of the base, received the news.

This man relied on the support of many influential figures behind the experimental base and was always arrogant, never showing respect to anyone. That included the Southern Warzone Master, Dax Wimbleton!

“Southern Warzone Master, Dax Wimbleton!”

Brandon quickly came over to the entrance of the base just in time to see Dax trying to threaten the guards, and approached with a smile.

“You...” He pointed at the numerous soldiers behind Dax and showed no signs of nervousness or fear on his face. Instead, it was filled with disdain and mockery. “Why did you bring so many soldiers to my research base? I'll make it clear. I won't be providing meals for you.”

Dax's eyes narrowed when he saw how arrogant Brandon was acting.

Dax stared directly at the man and said in a low voice, “Brandon Orwell, I've received reliable information that your research base is related to the recent incident in the Southern Wilds Prison. Step aside and don't get in the way of my business!”

However, Brandon did not care about Dax's stern words. He sized Dax up, then at the soldiers behind him, and said with a smirk, “Dax Wimbleton, this isn't a place you can search at will.”

Dax's expression turned cold.

“Ridiculous! There's no place in the Southern Warzone that I can't go!” Dax stared straight at Brandon, about to tell him to back off.

Just then, Brandon took out a document from his pocket and held it in front of Dax.

That arrogant action made Dax even more displeased. However, his expression changed when he saw the contents. It was a decree from the imperial palace!

“Subjects of Florence, seeing this decree is akin to seeing the emperor. Soldiers are not allowed to raise their arms. Civilians are not wed to step foot. Otherwise, it would be considered contempt for emperor of Florence, an unforgivable crime!”

Although the decree was short, the contents weighed heavily and instantly blocked Dax's path. He did not have Andrius' courage and did not dare to go against an imperial decree.

Brandon put away the decree smugly and said with a fake smile, "Dax, this decree came from Kiyoto. It's a decree from the imperial palace!"

He pointed to the soldiers behind Dax, showing off a pompous attitude. "Are you sure you still want to search my base?. If you have the guts, then be my guest."

Brandon slowly stepped aside and grinned. "Come in, come in, I'll make way for you! Please go ahead!"

He was sure that Dax would not dare to go against an order from Kiyoto! Thus, he was disdainful and haughty. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel Dax was so furious that smoke seemed to come out of his head.

The ten thousand soldiers behind him were also infuriated. They clenched their fists and waited for Dax's command to turn this fool into a real idiot.

However...

Dax stared at Brandon for a long time but did not dare to give the order.

"What's wrong?" Brandon became even more arrogant. He walked up to Dax, almost standing right in front of him, and sneered in his ear, Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel if anything happens. What do you have to be afraid of?" The voice echoed and reverberated throughout the area.

It was none other than Andrius!

Chapter 1157

Seeing Andrius' appearance, the soldiers immediately dispersed to the sides.

Andrius and Luna walked forward side by side.

"The Wolf King!" Brandon's expression instantly changed. However, he held the decree in his hand and instantly regained his confidence.

"Wolf King! Even if you're the Wolf King, you can't be arrogant while I have the decree!" Brandon blocked Andrius' path and spoke coldly.

Swoosh.

Andrius did not waste time with him. He casually pulled out the handgun from Dax's waist and pointed it at Brandon's head, pointing

"Would you believe me if I said that I'll kill you if you dare to obstruct me again?" Andrius' calm voice carried overwhelming killing intent and coldness.

After all, he was the Wolf King and the current emperor's junior! In the whole of Florence, as long as he did not rebel, there was nothing he would not dare to do!

Furthermore, his prestige and strength were widely recognized in Florence.

Brandon instantly shrunk back.

"Wolf King! T-t-this is abuse of power!" Brandon's expression turned ashen in an instant. He struggled for a long time and only managed to squeeze out a short sentence.

"Abuse of power?" Andrius glanced at Brandon and said with disdain, "That's right, I'm abusing my power today. What are you going to do about it?" Brandon froze, momentarily speechless. He looked at Andrius, then at the soldiers behind him, and his expression instantly fell.

Then, he narrowed his eyes at Andrius, his eyes flashing with an inexplicable light. He said coldly, "Wolf King, I can let you go in and search. However, if you go in and don't find anything, then I want a proper explanation for this!"

Andrius raised his brows and asked, "What kind of explanation do you want?"

"I want you to apologize in front of all the media!" Brandon stared into eyes and said word by word, "Apologize for the negative your willfulness brought to my research base!" Andrius smiled and agreed easily. "Sure, no problem."

Then, he waved at Dax and the soldiers and shouted, "Search the place!"

"Yes!"

The soldiers rushed in.

Andrius, Dax, and Luna stayed outside.

Chapter 1158

Immediately, there was a commotion of footsteps nearby.

Dozens of reporters had somehow gathered here without anyone noticing. They all rushed out after hearing Brandon's signal. It was clear that this was a premeditated scheme. From the start, Andrius and Dax were lured here.

"My dear Wolf King..." Brandon looked at Andrius, the smugness on his face almost overflowing. "You said it yourself. If you don't find anything, you must apologize in front of the media!

"The honorable Wolf King of Florence has always been a man of his word. You won't back out on it, right?"

The mocking look in Brandon's eyes indicated that he planned this long ago.

ax's expression darkened. "Don't go too far, Brandon Orwell. This is the Southern Warzone, and I'm the Southern Warzone Master!"

"Heh..." Brandon's expression was extremely disdainful. He showed no respect for Dax and said contemptuously, "Even if you're the Southern Warzone Master, you're still bound by the laws!

"Just now, the Wolf King personally said that he would apologize in public if nothing was found. Are you saying that the Wolf King is lying? Is he going back on his word?

It had to be said that despite his arrogance, Brandon's words.

sounded reasonable. Dax was unable to refute and could only hold back his anger. Then, Brandon looked at Andrius and smirked triumphantly, and made a phone call.

The call was directed to his behind-the-scenes connections in Kiyoto. He wanted to use those connections to exert pressure on Andrius!

"Sir! The Wolf King and the Southern Warzone Master brought people. to forcefully barge into my research base. I allowed them to search, but they found nothing and still refused to give up... Sir, you must speak up for me!"

Shortly after hanging up the call, Andrius' phone rang.

"Got it," Andrius responded and slowly walked toward Brandon.

Brandon grinned.

In his view, Andrius must have succumbed to the pressure from above ove and was about to apologize to him in front of the reporters. An apology

The slap genuinely dumbfounded him.

He called the big shots in Kiyoto to pressure Andrius.

Furthermore, Andrius received a call and responded with a 'got it'. Why did he dare to slap him?

In addition to that, he even told the reporters to record this scene and broadcast it live...

Damn it. His dignity just went down the drain!

"What?" Andrius looked at Brandon with a smile and said faintly, "Are you upset?"

"Wolf King!" Brandon pointed at Andrius and said sinisterly, "You went back on your word to bully others. All the reporters present have

“You, the Wolf King, will become an eternal sinner of Florence!”

It was a heavy accusation.

If it were someone else, they might have been intimidated.

However, Andrius had captured kings from the Western Nations and even dared to lead an army into the capital...

Those words were like child's play to him.

“Chaos in Florence? An eternal sinner?”

There was thick disdain on Andrius' face. “Florence won't fall into chaos just because you said it would. In my opinion, Florence is quite unstable!

“As for you, you conducted wicked and malicious experiments under the guise of research. The real culprit endangering Florence is you! “I not only

“Fine, fine!” Brandon stared fiercely at Andrius, clearly hating his guts out. “You'll regret this, Wolf King. You'll definitely regret this!”

Andrius could not be bothered to argue with him. He turned and instructed the soldiers, “Guards, detain and search him!”

A soldier immediately stepped forward to restrain Brandon and search him.

Brandon's hands were pinned behind his back, and there was a blue gemstone ring in his left hand..

When the ring had not been taken away yet, he lightly pressed it with his right hand. A faint light flashed before disappearing, returning to normal.

It was an emergency distress signal. In critical moments, it could be used to send messages for help.

The next moment, the ring was confiscated.

A few seconds later, he was thoroughly searched.

“Take him away. Keep a close eye on him and don’t let anything go wrong!” Andrius instructed the soldiers.

“Yes, sir!” the soldiers promised loudly.

us continued to instruct, “Dax, leave some people here and duct a thorough search, then seal off this research base.” Dax nodded. “Got it. I’ll handle it personally.”

After giving the orders, Andrius left with Luna, Noir, and the others.

In the Southern Wilds Hospital, Vivian was fed insect poison by Brandon’s people. Fortunately, Kelvin was present. After some treatment, her complexion looked much better.

“Is she alright?” Andrius looked at Vivian lying on the bed and asked with concern.

“There are no major issues. The insect poison in Ms. Gibbs’ body has been completely expelled and destroyed. She’s just a little weak due to the treatment and hasn’t woken up yet.”

Andrius was relieved by Kelvin’s words.

Bam!
