Chapter 1161

"He's full of aggression."

Just as Kelvin finished speaking... Thud!

Rumble!

Clang, clang, clang!

The First War God started to rage again. He gripped the bars of the metal cage with both hands, continuously trying to pry them apart. He even smashed his head against them as if he was mad.

Andrius' heart ached.

Although the First War God no longer knew the concept of pain, witnessing how the once-glorious First War God was reduced to such a miserable state was truly heartbreaking, especially for Andrius, who was once a former friend of his.

He could not bear to watch and turned his head to ask, "Is there a way to resolve this?"

Kelvin's expression darkened as he shook his head. "I've tried, but the insect in his body is too powerful. The insects in my possession can't deal with him."

Andrius fell silent.

After some thought, he took out his silver needles and began acupuncture treatment on the First War God's body.

The needles pierced his body, precise and accurate.

However, what caught Andrius off guard was that when the needles were inserted into the First War God's body, it was like pouring oil on a fire, instantly igniting his ferocious and murderous nature as the Insect Soldier King!

Roar-

The First War God let out a series of deep roars. His eyes turned redder, and every muscle on his body turned exceptionally robust, looking explosive and violent. Crack...

The next moment, the First War God...

No, he had completely transformed into an actual god of war now!

He forcefully pulled apart the bars of the cage and sprinted out.

Thud!

Thud!

Thud!

The Insect Soldier King approached with large steps, stomping on the ground. The floor cracked with a muffled sound, striking heavily into the hearts of onlookers like war drums.

Bam!

Boom!

Chap 1161

The guards tried to intervene, but they were no match and were all sent flying.

Seeing this, Andrius had no choice but to step forward to prevent more soldiers from getting hurt, blocking the enraged Insect Soldier King.

The Insect Soldier King's eyes were red. He did not care who the person in front of him was.

In his mind, there was only one thought-destroy everything in sight!

Boom!

The Insect Soldier King threw a punch without hesitation. Andrius responded with a punch of his own.

The next second, he lifted his sandbag-sized fist and swung it at Andrius' chest.

"Wolf King, watch out!" Kelvin saw this scene and immediately shouted.

Swoosh-

Just then, a figure appeared out of nowhere and shielded Andrius, facing the enormous and fierce Insect Soldier King alone.

Andrius looked over and could not believe his eyes.

It was none other than Vivian!

Chapter 1162

There was no other choice.

The First War God was already dead, but Vivian was still alive.

The choice was clear.

However, to save Vivian, Andrius would need to use his inner energy and risk harming the First War God, perhaps even destroying the latter's body... Nevertheless, he had to make this difficult decision.

Andrius did not have the time to think about it carefully.

Swoosh-

The next second, his inner energy-coated right fist was just about to reach past Vivian to collide with the Insect Soldier King. His fist had the momentum of a mountain or a river. It was enough to destroy the First War God.

"Conrad.... | have no choice. I'm sorry..." Andrius muttered those words and stopped hesitating.

Just then, Vivian suddenly shouted at the Insect Soldier King, "Father!"

Hearing that voice, the First War God's rapidly approaching body suddenly froze. The violence and evil aura on his body seemed to evaporate, completely dissipating in an instant. Then, he seemed to realize his actions and quickly slowed down. The surging force on his fist also disappeared like smoke. Half a second later, his fist finally stopped not an inch away from Vivian's chest.

He was no longer the bloodthirsty Insect Soldier King. He was the First War God, Conrad Gibbs, and the father of Vivian Gibbs!

Seeing this scene, Andrius and Kelvin were both stunned.

However, what shocked them even more was what happened next.

Swoosh...

He raised his hand and gently caressed Vivian's head.

That gentleness and warmth made it impossible to associate him with the fierce and destructive Insect Soldier King from a moment ago. It was as if he was just a kind father

It was as if he turned back into the First War God. Everyone present was stunned.

“What...”

Even Andrius was dumbfounded. He and Kelvin exchanged a look and saw the disbelief in each other's faces.

Back then, then, in the lost temple at the cordillera, the First War God risked his life to buy them time from the Second War God and then died tragically at the hands of insect soldiers. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

The reason why the First War God could move now was entirely due to the insects inside his body.

However, the movement was rigid and not of human nature. Despite that, what did they see?

The First War God was actually exhibiting human behavior!

-He was awakened by Vivian's voice and performed a human-like action!

The area fell into silence.

Andrius, Kelvin, Luna, and the others were all stunned.

Even the soldiers stood frozen in place, staring with their mouths wide open.

“Father...”

The First War God caressed Vivian's head.

Chapter 1163

Vivian's face was sorrowful. She closed her eyes, and tears slid down her cheeks silently, falling to the ground with silent drips.

“Father...”

Seeing Andrius and Kelvin's shocked gazes, Vivian choked up and explained, “When I was small, every time he had to go out on a mission... I would cry and make a scene, wanting him to stay. “Every time, my father would comfort me like this, patting my head... He did it every time...”

Vivian's tone grew softer, and her face increasingly sad.

At that moment, the First War God's actions became even gentler. Andrius and Kelvin were both amazed, completely shaken by what they saw.

Swoosh...

Kelvin suddenly had an idea and approached the First War God. The First War God did not notice, his eyes fixed on Vivian as he mechanically repeated the same action.

Kelvin relaxed and began examining the First War God.

Then, he was shocked. His eyes were filled with disbelief as he muttered to himself. “This... This is impossible! How could this be?”

“What happened?” Andrius looked at his expression and quickly asked.

“T-the violent aura of the insects in his body has completely subsided, becoming a controllable aura! T-that's simply impossible, but it really happened...” Kelvin pointed at the First War God, his expression changing constantly.

It was as if his worldview was being overturned.

Controllable?

Andrius' eyes flashed, and he asked, "Doesn't that mean that Conrad's body can stabilize in the future?" "It's possible!" Kelvin considered it and said solemnly, "I should be able to control him for the second time, basically ensuring that the First War God won't have those violent outbreaks again in the future."

Andrius was relieved.

Then, Kelvin continued, "However, the First War God's actions just, now were truly unimaginable. I've been studying medicine in Murrfield for decades, but I still can't figure out the reason. I probably won't be able to figure it out for a while."

Andrius did not think much of it.

Many things exist in the world. The more one learned, the more one would feel their own insignificance.

However, no matter what, the fact was that Kelvin could control the First War God for the second time to stabilize him, and he was even stopped by Vivian's voice. Those were both very good things. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

"Okay." Andrius nodded at Kelvin, then sought Vivian's opinion, "Vivian, if you don't mind, let Dr. Leach plant the second insect in Conrad's body. That way, there won't be any violent outbursts again." The second insect...

This undoubtedly meant another injury to the First War God. However, in order to prevent a recurrence of the recent dangerous scene and more tragedies, Vivian nodded softly.

With the approval, Andrius looked at Kelvin. "Dr. Leach, I'll leave this to you for now. Take good care of Vivian and the First War God. I'll go back first and check on the results of the interrogation." Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Kelvin nodded. "Don't worry, Wolf King. I owe the First War God my life, so I'll do my best." Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel Andrius was relieved. He turned around. Just as he was about to walk out, someone suddenly rushed in. It was Dax. He steadied himself and said urgently, "Andrius, bad news!"

Chapter 1164

Andrius frowned and asked, "What happened?"

Dax took a deep breath and quickly said, "Just a moment ago, the squad escorting Brandon was unexpectedly attacked. The opponent's martial strength was formidable. They came prepared. They took the whole squad as hostage.

"Although I've dispatched a large army to surround them, they're using the lives of the soldiers as a threat, so I don't dare to act recklessly. The army was forced to retreat and can't get too close. Furthermore, Brandon specifically named you and wants you to go alone in exchange for the hostages.

"If anyone else approaches, then they'll kill the hostages. What do you think?"

Dax looked at Andrius as if seeking his opinion.

It seemed another complication cropped up. These people were quite audacious, daring to take soldiers from the Southern Warzone hostage.

Andrius' expression instantly turned cold, and he said in a low voice, "Lead the way. I'll go meet them now and see who they are. Brandon said that he was backed up by several high-ranking officials in Kiyoto.

Andrius never thought that those people would become so arrogant just because he went off the radar for some time.

A moment later, Dax led Andrius and met Brandon and the others.

“Wolf King...” Brandon immediately grinned when he saw Andrius appear. “I didn’t expect us to meet again so soon. It’s just that this time, our roles are reversed. I have the initiative, while you’re in a passive position.

“Tsk, tsk, tsk... Tell me, how should I deal with you this time?” Dealing with the Wolf King!

In Florence, not even the emperor, Registus, would dare to say that. Brandon was truly arrogant.

Even Dax and the others could not bear to watch.

“Stop barking.” Andrius did not lose his composure due to Brandon's arrogance and only said calmly, “Get to the point. What are your conditions for releasing the hostages?” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“It's simple!” Brandon glanced at Andrius and snapped his fingers, as if everything was under his control. “Immediately mobilize five large military transport helicopters and bring them here with full tanks. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel Helicopters...

A subtle flash flickered in Andrius' eyes, and he agreed. “No problem. Dax, follow his instructions.”

ChaiterTipl

Dax did not doubt him and quickly arranged it.

Whirr...

Ten minutes later, the sound of helicopters approached from afar, stirring up gusts of wind.

Finally, they landed in an open space several meters away.

The crew quickly descended, emptying everything.

“There.” Andrius looked straight at Brandon and said calmly, “The helicopters you wanted are here. Shouldn't you fulfill your promise now?”

Chapter 1165

“Don't rush.”

Brandon grinned and gestured to one of his men.

The subordinate immediately went to check inside the helicopter, ensuring there was enough fuel and inspecting for any sabotage.

Not long after, he returned.

He nodded at Brandon.

Brandon smirked in triumph. “It seems you're quite sensible and didn't pull any tricks on the helicopter. In that case, I'll cut to the chase. There's one last condition.”

At that point, a cold glint flashed in Brandon's eyes. “Andrius Moonshade, I can release all these soldiers, but you must become my hostage. Once we leave Florence airspace, I'll naturally let you go.” Brandon was indeed clever.

If they left so brazenly as a group like this, Dax could order a missile strike and annihilate them.

However, it was different with Andrius. Dax would surely hesitate and not dare to use missiles, fearing the consequences.

Andrius' expression flickered with coldness at the cunning plan, and he said calmly, “I can be your hostage, but I need to inform the soldiers first. Otherwise, you won't be able to take me away.” Brandon thought about it and felt that there was no problem, so he agreed. “Sure.”

Andrius went back to the army formation and said to Dax, “Dax, I'm going with him as his hostage later.”

“Wolf King, that’s...”

Although Dax knew that Andrius was strong, he still hesitated. “Hubby, no!” Beside him, Luna grabbed his arm and pleaded with her eyes. “I don’t want to see you in danger...” It was clear that Luna was sincerely worried and truly feared that something would happen to Andrius Andrius looked into Luna’s eyes, seeing his own reflection clearly, and reassured her. “Don’t worry about me. I have a plan!

“Brandon will watch me personally. That way, I’ll have the chance to hijack the helicopter. When I succeed, I’ll get out of the helicopter. At that time, Dax, give the order to attack all five helicopters so that none of them can escape.”

Andrius’ plan was quite bold and decisive. Attacking five military helicopters... Ordinary people would not dare to think of it.

Even Dax was shocked by Andrius’ plan and asked, “Are you sure that’ll work? Jumping from a helicopter is no joke! Besides, Brandon knows how strong you are and will definitely keep a close eye on you. If you’re not completely confident, then...” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Whirr...

To the side, an extremely cold aura suddenly surged forward.

It was Luna!

overwhelming icy aura and could not help but shiver.

Chapter 1166

However, this was southern Florence where the temperature often reached over thirty degrees Celsius. Why would he feel a chill? Brandon felt puzzled.

Thus, he glanced at Andrius and snorted in displeasure, "Wolf King, hurry up and stop dallying. Have you finished explaining everything?" Andrius did not speak and walked straight forward.

"That's more like it!" Brandon became arrogant again. Then, he took a pair of handcuffs from one of the mercenaries and snapped them onto Andrius, saying, "Don't try playing any tricks. These cuffs are made of high-purity refined iron. Even a full-grown male elephant won't be able to break free."

Andrius tested it out silently. Then, he nodded at the detained soldiers and said, "Can you release them now?"

"Don't worry, with a big catch like you, I'm not interested in those small fry!" Brandon replied and then said to the mercenaries, "Release the trash. They're worthless trash. Let's go!"

Then, the mercenaries slowly released the soldiers, and the group of people boarded the helicopter. Whoosh, whoosh, whoosh...

The sound rang out, sending gusts of wind flying.

The helicopters ascended.

Chapter 1166

Brandon looked at the shackled Andrius and could not hold back his grin. “I never expected the mighty Wolf King of Florence would fall into my hands. Hahahaha...”

Brandon burst into arrogant and triumphant laughter. At that moment, he was like a winner, assuming a condescending posture. “Remember how loud you’re laughing now. You’ll be as miserable later,” Andrius raised his eyes and looked at him calmly, speaking with indifference.

“Huh?” Brandon seemed to hear an unbelievable joke.

He glanced at Andrius, then said disdainfully, “What? Do you think that dog Dax will dare to launch missiles while you’re still here?”

“He wouldn’t dare! Once I fly out of Florence’s airspace, he won’t be able to deal with me! How will I be miserable?”

Just as he spoke, a strange change occurred.

Crack!

A slight sound came, and the specially made handcuffs shackling Andrius shattered, breaking into pieces, and falling to the ground.

Even an elephant would find that refined iron sturdy. However, for a martial realm expert like Andrius, it was like using a cannon to kill a mosquito, absolutely effortless.

“You! That’s impossible!”

Seeing this, Brandon was so frightened that he instinctively reached for his gun. Chapter 156

However, how could his speed compare to Andrius?

Swoosh...

Before he could draw the gun, Andrius already grabbed him by the neck.

With his strength, he could easily twist off Brandon’s head. Bang! Bang, bang, bang!

“Fire!”

Below, Dax had been silently observing everything and had the soldiers make all the preparations. When he saw Andrius and Brandon come out, he decisively gave the order to open fire. Boom!

Swish!

A sharp roar echoed, and long tongues of flames spewed out.

The rocket launchers aimed at the five helicopters roared in unison.

Boom!

Chapter 1167

Rumble!

Boom!

The next moment, all the helicopters were destroyed by the impressive firepower, exploding in mid-air and creating a dazzling yet tragic display of fireworks.

Debris emitted black smoke and fell continuously.

As for the mercenaries inside...

Naturally, there was no chance of survival for any of them.

Boom!

Andrius and Brandon fell faster and faster.

Andrius gathered his inner energy and repeatedly struck the ground, using the rebounding force to slow their descent.

Finally, their speed decreased.

Brandon fell to the ground, and Andrius landed steadily.

Rustle...

Swoosh...

Clack, clack...

The soldiers immediately rushed over, aiming their guns at Brandon and capturing him once again. "Ugh... Bleurgh..."

Brandon's face was pale as he vomited heavily, unable to slip away this time.

"Brandon Orwell." Andrius looked at him and said coldly, "You can't escape. Don't try any futile struggles. It's meaningless. Tell me the whereabouts of the masked men who took Vivian away and I can lessen your suffering."

At that moment, Brandon's hair was disheveled, and he looked miserable. There was no trace of his former arrogance. Only deep fear toward Andrius remained.

Bullets could not harm him, and falling from a high altitude could not kill him.

Was he even human?

At that thought, Brandon was frightened out of his wits and did not dare to oppose Andrius anymore.

“Tell me now!”

Brandon took a deep breath, looked at Andrius, and quickly said, “Those masked men are on a mountain about ten kilometers to the southwest of Scarlet Peak. However, they’ve always been secretive and never allow entry to anyone once they descend the mountain.”

At that point, Brandon looked at Andrius cautiously and quickly added, “That’s all I know, I swear! Wolf King, I’m begging you. Please don’t torture me!”

Andrius ignored Brandon and looked in the southwest direction.

Chapter 1168

The group followed the direction Brandon mentioned and soon. arrived at a small mountain.

On the mountainside sat a small wooden house. Although it was well hidden, it could not escape Andrius’ sharp eyes. Thus, the group immediately climbed the mountain in the direction of the wooden house.

After a while, the house stood clearly in front of them.

Andrius walked forward and pushed open the somewhat aged door. Bzzae

The Sanguis Blade emanated a bloody aura.

Firstly, Andrius needed to keep them alive to find out the mastermind behind all this.

Secondly, he could not predict whether the Sanguis Blade would undergo a terrible transformation once tainted with blood and become even more difficult to control. That would make things

Chapter 1169

The moment Luna heard Andrius' voice, her mind cleared, and she instantly began to recite the mantra. Hum...

As she murmured to herself, a radiant light shimmered on the Sanguis Blade.

Luna's entire demeanor gradually calmed down, returning to her usual state with less killing intent. Prick!

Andrius took out a silver needle and pierced it into Luna's temple, helping her clear her mind.

With the dual effect, Luna gradually returned to normal.

Hubby, I...” Luna recalled the scene just now and could not help but break into a cold sweat.

She lowered her head like a child who had done something wrong, saying apologetically, “I couldn’t control myself because of the aura from the Sanguis Blade...”

Andrius sighed with distress. He looked at Luna and comforted her.

It's not your fault. Don't blame yourself.”

However, although that was what he said, he felt more urgent.

Although the Sanguis Blade and the demon snake’s power was balanced for now, it was like two time bombs attached to Luna. If it detonated, the consequences would be unimaginable. They had to be resolved as soon as possible.

“Okay. Thank you, hubby...”

Luna’s expression improved slightly.

Andrius nodded, collected his thoughts, and walked toward the three masked men on the ground. He looked at the three and asked coldly, “Who are you and who sent you?”

The leader and the other two exchanged glances as they prepared a story, intending to deceive their way through.

Just then, they felt a bone-chilling coldness, making them shiver involuntarily. They instinctively looked over just in time to meet Luna’s icy gaze. There was no hint of emotion, only an endless coldness as if coming from the vast ice fields.

The leader’s face stiffened, and the lies he prepared stuck in his throat, unable to be spoken.

“Lit was the Insect Ruler...” He did not dare to hide the truth and confessed everything as fast as he could. “We were sent by the Insect Ruler.”

It was the Insect Ruler!

Andrius' expression became unpleasant when he heard those words.

The Insect Ruler was a legendary figure in Murrfield and possessed the strength of a Martial Saint. Coupled with the years he operated secretly, his scale of influence was unknown...

This time, he even obtained the demon snake's heart...

It was likely that Florence would once again be plunged into a storm of bloodshed.

Andrius suppressed that thought and asked in a low voice, "Tell me what he sent you to do.

"To build an experimental base and create more powerful insect soldiers, then transport them to Murrfield."

anything else." Andrius fell silent.

The Insect Ruler was already incredibly powerful. Wanting to create so many insect soldiers indicated that he was planning something major. Unfortunately, he controlled his subordinates very strictly, so these three could not inquire about classified secrets.

Andrius took a deep breath and continued to ask, “Do you know how many insect soldier experimental bases like yours exist? Where are they located?”

they located?”

That was an important question.

Andrius had a feeling that the insect soldier experimental base on Scarlet Peak was just the tip of the iceberg.

Sure enough, the leader immediately replied, “I only know that about ten to fifteen kilometers to the west, south, and north each has an experimental base for insect soldiers.

“The four adjacent bases can maintain communications. Then, they spread out and form a powerful network of bases. We don’t know about any other bases.”

Chapter 1170 Andrius’ heart chilled.

With experimental bases for insect soldiers scattered within a range of ten to fifteen kilometers, at that density, the Southern Warzone likely housed a terrifying number of such bases.

“Dax...”

At that thought, Andrius instructed, “Take these three back and start a three-hundred-kilometer radius search toward the areas bordering Murrfield. “Seal off any bases discovered without needing to report it. If anyone dares to resist, then execute them on the spot!

“Also, the leaders of these bases should preferably be captured alive. See if you can follow the trail and find the mastermind behind this.”

From Brandon’s reaction, it was clear that the mastermind behind these bases must be someone with extensive connections, allowing them to disregard even the Wolf King.

“Got it.” Dax replied, “I'll get right on it.”

For the next few days, the soldiers of the Southern Warzone began a thorough search.

Soon, the once highly secretive insect soldier experimental bases surfaced one by one. The number was staggering and left them.

astonished.

Under Dax's rigorous interrogation, he discovered that the masterminds behind these bases were all linked to prominent officials and powerful figures from Kiyoto. None of them were ordinary people!

This discovery shocked Dax.

That was because if they continued investigating, he would offend almost half the court. Though most of them were civil officials, their sheer numbers posed a formidable threat.

If they worked together...

Even the emperor would not be able to stand idly by!

At that thought, Dax approached Andrius and asked for his opinion. Andrius, the sweep has been ongoing for three days, and we've discovered and sealed over forty-two insect soldier experimental bases! “We captured thirty-five leaders of these bases, and half of them have already confessed. Have a look at the results.” Dax's voice was lowered, indicating the gravity of the situation.

Then, he took out a piece of paper and handed it to Andrius. Listed on it were the names of officials and influential figures from Kiyoto extracted from the confessions of the base leaders.

However, Andrius did not even glance at it and said calmly, “You don't need to worry about anything, Dax. Just continue searching and sealing the bases! I'll bear all the consequences.

“I'm also heading to Kiyoto now. | want to see...”

At that point, a resolute righteousness flashed on Andrius' face." We're destroying these cruel, evil, and damnable insect soldier experimental bases. Who would dare to oppose us and question us?" Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel Insect soldier experimental bases were things that should not exist in this world. Therefore, Andrius was extremely determined.
