Chapter 1191

The inner energy in Andrius* body was dwindling rapidly. The rate the inner energy was depleting far exceeded Old Hagstorm's expectations.

"Master..." Andrius called out softly when he saw Old Hagstorm's unpleasant expression. [c]

"It's fine." Old Hagstorm heard Andrius' voice and pretended to be at ease. Although you've suffered some losses in inner energy during this period, with my special technique, I can temporarily stabilize it.

"As long as you endure it until we obtain the medicinal herbs, everything will be fine." Andrius was relieved to hear that.

Thus, Old Hagstorm began to perform a highly advanced technique, channeling his own inner energy into Andrius' meridians to temporarily stabilize him.

"Ugh..." After this, Old Hagstorm's face turned pale, and he could not help but groan.

At the same time, he felt something sweet in his throat and almost spat out blood. This technique damaged his inner energy and caused immeasurable harm.

However, he did not want to worry Andrius, so he acted as if he was fine. Fortunately, he managed to swallow the blood in time. The violent disturbance of his energy and blood took a long time to settle.

"Master!" Andrius noticed something was amiss and immediately asked, What's wrong? Are you okay?"

If Old Hagstorm got injured while treating him, Andrius would never forgive himself.

"I'm fine." Old Hagstorm shook his head.

However, Andrius could see the fatigue and weakness on Old Hagstorm's face. It was a stark contrast to his usual vibrant and energetic appearance. He was hiding something!

"Master, are you really okay?" Andrius looked at Old Hagstorm suspiciously and prepared to examine him. "Let me check..." Ding-

Just then, Andrius' phone rang. It was Noir.

Mai 119

Andrius put the matter aside and answered the phone first.

"Andy, bad news!" As soon as the call connected, Noir's anxious voice sounded. "Hurry over to the silk springs. It's in Block B, room 3-2. Quick!"

Andrius felt the urgency and quickly agreed. "Wait for me. I'll be right there."

After hanging up the phone, he said to Old Hagstorm, "Master, something's happened with Noir. I'll go check it out first and then come back."

"Huff, huff..."

Old Hagstorm meditated for a moment, calming the surging blood and looking int a certain direction with a hint of fear in his eyes. "I hope that old fellow in Flandom has already passed. As he spoke, he closed his eyes slowly to regulate his breath.

In Room 3-2 of Block B was a private hot spring with steam rising. Combined with the exotic scenery of Flandom, it created a tranquil and delightful atmosphere.

Andrius entered and quickly spotted Noir. Noir was lying in the springs with a towel covering him. He looked rather bloated, which made Andrius confused. What was going on?

Andrius saw no signs of a bloody event and felt relieved. He slowed his pace and asked, "Noir, why do you look like that? Also, didn't you say something major happened?" Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Noir smiled helplessly. He looked around to confirm the safety of the surroundings, then pulled back the towel. Andrius did not understand at first, but when he looked closely, he was dumbfounded.

Under the towel was a beautiful woman lying on Noir's hairy thighs!

Chapter 1192

She was a classic beauty with stunning looks. Her shoulder-length golden hair was smooth and shiny, resembling silk, and her deep-set eyes were clear and profound like blue agate. They were as beautiful as a painting.

Her flawless skin, radiant and milky, seemed perfect to touch.

With her slender figure and graceful curves, she would undoubtedly be a charming nymph if she stood up. There truly were beauties in all corners of the world. She looked like a foreign princess.

Andrius thought of many possibilities while he was rushing over, but he did not think of this.

Noir...

He usually never said a word. Unexpectedly, he found a woman the moment they arrived at Flandom. Furthermore, she was such a stunning beauty.

Andrius turned his gaze to Noir and asked, "So, this is the major incident you were telling me about? Are you having a 'spa' treatment?"

What spa treatment?

Noir glanced at the beauty between his legs and explained awkwardly, "It's a misunderstanding, Andy. I didn't bring this lady here for a spa!"

Andrius chuckled but did not respond.

However, he believed Noir. He knew what Noir was like. He would sooner swear brotherhood with a woman than show interest in her as the fairer sex! He would only go looking for women when pigs could fly!

"I just arrived at the hot springs and took off my pants. Then, this woman suddenly rushed in, looking anxious."

Noir continued to explain awkwardly, "I wanted to ask what happened, but I soon heard shouts from outside, and I noticed the injuries on her body. My heart softened, so I saved her and hid her under the towel.

"The pursuers looked around but didn't see her, so they left. However, when I wanted to let her go, she had already fainted, so I could only call you to figure out what to do."

So that was it.

Andrius nodded and helped the girl up to examine her situation. Although she was injured, they were all superficial wounds and not serious.

He dressed her wounds and said to Noir, "Noir, she's fine. She likely fainted because of the shock. Think of a way to send her away."

Andrius' priority was to obtain the medicinal herbs from the auction. It would be wise to stay out of trouble before that. Furthermore, this was Fandom, so he could not act like a savior. Sending her away was the best option.

"Huh?" Noir was clearly stunned upon hearing that and hesitated. "Andy, the people chasing her looked quite fierce. The lady is so delicate and beautiful. If she falls into their hands, the consequences would be unimaginable."

Andrius looked at Noir in surprise.

In his impression, Noir was pragmatic and decisive. This behavior was quite out of character.

Andrius shook his head. "Noir, our mission hasn't started yet. Getting involved rashly will bring about great risk to our mission. We can't afford any accidents." Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel send her out. "Over here! That girl must be here!"

"Hey, you! Hurry up and hand her over!"

Chapter 1193

"Damn it, how dare you deceive us. You must be tired of living!"

Just then, a cursing voice came from outside.

Then, a group of burly Flandonian men stormed in fiercely.

When they saw the beauty, they all started to holler.

Noir had been reluctant to part with the beauty. Now that he was insulted by the Flandonian men, he could not contain his anger. The only person he would take insults from was Andrius!

"Screw you!" Noir glared at the group of men and roared, "I won't hand her over. If you have the guts, come over here and try to beat me!"

His ferocious appearance left Andrius stunned.

"Damn it, you're seeking death!"

“Let's get him, boys!”

“Beat him up and let him know the cost of opposing us!”

“How dare a weak Florencia dare to be arrogant in Fandom! Today, you'll learn that Fandom's fists are as red as the sun!”

The men shouted as they charged forward. Their faces were twisted fiercely as they cracked their knuckles and grinned wickedly.

It was clear that they did not think that the thin-looking Noir was a threat.

Bam!

Smack!

Thud!

Noir did not hold back at all.

In less than half a minute, he knocked down all the burly men. They were all left grimacing on the ground, crying out for their “Argh...”

“Ugh, oh...”

“My back...” Chapter 1193. “Im done for...”

The men who had been arrogant just moments ago were now miserable. Only their mouths were able to move as they moaned incessantly.

“Get lost!” Noir shouted at the men.

They immediately helped each other up, struggled to stand, and fled from the place.

The leader walked to the door, gave Noir a fierce glare, then quickly followed the rest and quickly disappeared. Andrius was stunned.

Noir had been with him for many years and was usually steady, methodical, and measured in his actions. However, today he used force immediately because of a girl. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Could he really have a change of heart?

After the scuffle, Noir snapped back to his senses and scratched his head, saying regretfully, “Andy... sorry, I caused you trouble. I was just... I couldn't control myself...” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Andrius did not scold him but asked calmly, “Noir, tell me the truth. Do you regret it?”

Noir was stunned and thought about it. He glanced at the still-unconscious Flandonian girl, and then said firmly, “No, I don't! Andy, if you want to punish me, I'll accept it when we go back! But I hope that you'll help her, Andy!” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Chapter 1194 He did not regret it..... That was enough.

Andrius pondered for a moment and said, “Although they were driven away, there's a high chance they'll come back with more formidable experts. This place is no longer safe. Move her to a safer location first.”

With those words, he was clearly indicating his willingness to take responsibility for this matter on Noir's behalf. Noir's eyes welled up. “Thanks, Andy!”

Andrius did not know whether to laugh or cry and smacked his head. “Stop acting like a little girl and go handle it.” “Yes!” Noir nodded heavily.

Then, they found a new place.

Andrius called Old Hagstorm to explain the situation. “Master, something unexpected happened just now.”

He explained the whole incident in detail.

Old Hagstorm pondered for a moment, then said, “Andrius, just do what you want. I'll keep an eye on this matter for you secretly. You don't need to worry.”

“Thank you, Master!” Andrius felt relieved by Old Hagstorm's words.

While he was on the phone, Noir personally took action and took care of the Flandonian girl who was still unconscious, ensuring that she did not suffer any discomfort.

This amused Andrius.

"Tsk, tsk, tsk... Noir, you've finally bloomed."

Noir instantly blushed from the tease, wanting to find a hole to hide in and escape the embarrassment of being exposed to the world of love. However, for the first time, he did not argue against Andrius' words. "You..."

Ever since Noir said that he heart and was not surprised not regret it, Andrius already had an idea in his the situation. He simply chuckled and did not continue teasing him.

As for Noir... He continued to take care of the Flandonian girl.

Andrius saw this but did not say much and went back to his room.

Ring-

As soon as he entered, a call came in. Surprisingly, the screen showed that it was the princess of Bardan, Anna.

After answering the call, Anna said anxiously, "Wolf King, can I ask you for your help with something? One of my Flandonian friends has gone missing. I want you to use your intelligence network to find out where she is now." Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

"Thank you! Thank you so much, Wolf King!" Anna expressed her gratitude and immediately sent her friend's information to Andrius. "Her name is Katalina. She's nineteen this year and is the younger sister of Queen Margerina. She's a full-blooded Obaroan."

Andrius did not think much of it and simply agreed. "When I'm done with my business, I'll immediately help you ask around. There shouldn't be any problems."

In any case, the medicinal herbs were the priority. That was final. "Okay, Thank you, Wolf King." Anna hung up the phone in satisfaction.

Finding a person in Flandom was like finding a needle in a haystack. Andrius took down the information she sent and entered Dreamland.

In the middle of the night, the wind blew, and the moon was bright. A lean figure suddenly climbed up. It was Noir.

He tiptoed to the separate room prepared for the Flandonian girl, intending to change her bandages/This level of care could be considered going above and beyond.

However, just as he was about to pull back the girl's blanket to expose the wound and reapply the medicine, she suddenly woke up.

Chapter 1195

Four eyes met, and the scene became extremely awkward for a moment.

After a heartbeat...

"Abhhh-

"Pervert! Pervert!" the girl screamed in fear, her voice echoing in the quiet night. Noir was instantly flustered, and he was stunned.

However, before he could explain, the girl grabbed an object and threw it at Noir. First, it was a pillow, then a blanket, followed by things on the bedside table... Noir could not use his usual tactics against an enemy to deal with this delicate beauty, so he could only keep dodging. Thud!

Smack!

After several rounds, Noir still got hit a few times. Although he had tough skin and flesh, so it was not painful or itchy, the feeling of being understood was extremely unpleasant.

"Pervert! You pervert! Hooligan! You..."

The girl threw various objects angrily, grabbing whatever she could find and hurling them at Noir while scolding him continuously. "What's going on?"

Just as she kept throwing things at Noir, a steady voice with a hint of questioning sounded.

It was Andrius. He heard the commotion and came to the door.

Swoosh-

The girl thought that Andrius was working with Noir and used the slippers in her hand to strike Andrius' face without hesitation.

Andrius was instantly furious. He came here for something important and risked unnecessary trouble to save this woman, but she dared to act so insolently.

Was she asking for trouble?

Noir had already been forced into a corner by her blows, looking pitiful.

However, this woman continued to curse. Chapter 1195

Andrius could not stand it.

Swoosh-

With a flash, he appeared in front of the girl and grabbed her delicate neck with one large hand. His bright eyes stared at the girl, showing no hint of pity.

With that, Andrius tightened his grip, making the girl suffocate slightly before he slowly released some pressure. The chilling intent permeated the air like an ice cellar.

The girl was frightened and instantly quieted down, looking at Andrius in fear. Her eyes were pitiful and teary. At that moment, she truly felt Andrius' killing intent.

"Andy!" Noir was startled, feeling both worry and heartache. He immediately pleaded, "She's just scared. She didn't mean to do anything to me. Please spare her..." Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Well... Andrius looked at him speechlessly, snorted coldly, and let go.

"Cough, cough..." The girl gulped in large breaths of air, taking a while to recover. After calming down, she looked warily at Andrius and Noir. The fear in her bright blue eyes was still not completely gone. "W-who are you people? Why am I here?" Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Chapter 1196

Andrius pursed his lips slightly and sneered. "We're your saviors!"

The beauty was instantly stunned.

Noir quickly added, "You were being chased at the private hot springs earlier and barged into my room, so I saved you. Then..." He told her about the entire situation in detail.

The girl fell into thought. She remembered now. What he said did seem to have happened, so she immediately felt much more at ease.

She also found that the man in front of her was easier to talk to than Andrius.

Thus, she pointed to the bed and asked, "Then... what were you doing just now? Why did you come here in the middle of the night?"

Nori took out the ointment and gestured to her, explaining, "I thought that the medicine applied earlier in the evening should have been absorbed by now, so I wanted to change it for you..."

The girl subconsciously looked at her body.

Sure enough, there were several wounds on her body which were applied with the same ointment in Noir's hands.

The whole truth was revealed!

"I-I'm sorry... I misunderstood you!" The girl realized her mistake and expressed her sincere apologies to Noir.

Finally, she mustered up the courage to step forward, took his hand, and kissed it. "Thank you. Thank you for saving me!"

Noir had grown up in the military camp and had never experienced holding hands with a woman, let alone being kissed. He was completely stunned, feeling like he was floating.

"Hehe..." He chuckled and scratched his head. "Aw, it's nothing..."

Andrius saw his ditzy look and was completely speechless.

"Ahem. Noir, since the misunderstanding between you two has been resolved, go and apply the medicine for her properly." After saying that, Andrius turned and walked out, casually closing the door behind him.

Chapter 1196

2/2 "Uh, I..." Noir immediately scratched his head and picked up the ointment again. "Come on!"

Unexpectedly, the girl was very straightforward and directly loosened her clothes, exposing the wounds over her body. Her fair skin was white as snow and tender, exuding a rich fragrance. Noir was instantly stunned.

That was understandable. Florencians were usually reserved, especially girls, who were shy and delicate. No one acted this boldly! Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

She was unconscious before, so Noir did not think much of it. Now that she was awake, he suddenly felt uneasy.

Normally, his hand would not tremble even if he held a gun for hours. That was how stable he was.

Chapter 1197 Now...

His hand holding the ointment was trembling, and the ointment that should have been applied to her shoulder ended up on her cleavage instead...

This time, they were both embarrassed.

Noir turned as red as a tomato.

A moment later, he snapped back to his senses and tried to pull his hand away, but the girl's small hand held it down. Just as Noir was panicking, the girl suddenly leaned into his ear and asked in a silky voice, "How does it feel?" Noir's brain had already shut down, and he appeared in a daze, "It's soft."

The girl asked persistently, "Is that all?"

"It's... it's..." Noir choked and blushed. "It's squishy!"

Although nothing really happened during this dressing change, it left the innocent Noir blushing and feeling stirred up for quite a while. It took half an hour to finish applying the ointment.

After it was done, Andrius returned to the room. He glanced at the two and fixed his gaze on the beautiful girl.

"Tell me. Who are you, why are you being chased, and who are the people chasing you?"

Since they were now involved in this matter, Andrius wanted clear answers.

Knowledge was power. He could not afford to be caught off guard when the other party came knocking on the door.

|..." The girl hesitated and said, "Thank you for saving me, esteemed people of Florence. But forgive me, | can't reveal my identity. | just hope that you can take me to Yuridge Peak in the Arbeis mountain range."

That place was where her sister's trusted followers were stationed. It was the safest place at the moment.

When Andrius saw that she was unwilling to tell the truth, he narrowed his eyes into slits and said calmly, "I'm afraid | can't agree to that request."

Chapter 1197

The auction was about to start. Andrius did not want any complications. Noir hesitated to speak, but in the end, he sighed and did not say anything. The girl's eyes dimmed.

"Noir..." She said to Noir, "Give me back my things. I'll leave on my own!"

Noir fell silent and handed over a package. The girl opened it and checked it carefully, making sure nothing was missing.

Suddenly, something caught Andrius' attention. It was a jade token, exquisitely crafted with a vivid rooster totem engraved on it. If it were any other country, such a strange totem would never have appeared. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

However, Flandom was different. In Flandom, the rooster was a sacred totem that only the royal family was qualified to use. He remembered what Anna said earlier about a nineteen-year-old Flandonian girl who was the queen's younger sister... The identity of the girl in front of him became clear.

"Wait!"

Just as the girl finished checking and was about to leave, Noir suddenly stopped her. "If I'm not mistaken, you're..."

Andrius narrowed his eyes and seemed to question, but he was affirming it, "You're Katalina, the younger sister of Queen Margerina, right?" Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

The girl's eyes widened.

"Y—you..." She immediately paled and looked at Andrius with extreme vigilance, asking nervously, "H-how did you know?" Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Seeing the girl's reaction, Andrius instantly understood. He guessed right!

She was the Katalina that Anna asked him to find.

Chapter 1198

Andrius looked at her fearful expression and said calmly, "Katalina, don't be nervous. I'm Andrius Moonshade, the Wolf King of Florence."

Andrius took out his Wolf King emblem to show her, then put it away and continued. "Princess Anna of Bardan is my friend. She called me saying that you were missing and asked me to help find your whereabouts, so she provided me with information about you."

"I didn't know it was you at first. It was only when I saw the token in your package that I realized your identity." Katalina was struck by a realization. The Wolf King emblem proved that Andrius was indeed the Wolf King of Florence.

Furthermore, she indeed had a good relationship with Princess Anna. They had been in contact recently, so she stopped doubting him.

"So..." Andrius saw the realization on her face and asked, "Can you tell me who the people chasing you are now?" He had a feeling that maybe he had already become involved in a dispute. Katalina was the younger sister of the Queen. Who would dare to casually pursue her?

"It's a long story." Katalina's expression was complicated as she spoke. Esteemed Wolf King, you're right, I am the younger sister of Queen Margerina.

"However, there has already been a coup in Flandom. The Margerina who received you at the airport during the day is just a puppet. She's a fake.

"The true ruler of Flandom is Alexander, the only five-star general. He has many supporters within the country and controls the whole military.

"The ones chasing me are the people sent by Alexander." Andrius could not help but feel overwhelmed by the story. It was indeed a major conflict!

Flandom was one of the largest nations in Obaro. Although it was smaller than Florence, it was still recognized as a powerful country in the world. This matter was a bit tricky.

"Andy..." Noir felt worked up by the news. He pleaded, "Why don't we escort her to Arbeis first? It won't be that troublesome..." Chapter 1198

He was actually pleading for her.

Andrius knew that Noir was probably infatuated.

Katalina had no reason to refuse the Wolf King's team's escort, so she readily agreed. "Thank you, Wolf King." In Moore Manor, Richard had his legs crossed as he sampled red wine. "Sir!" A group of people came in to report their achievements.

“Public opinion has been controlled. There won't be any unexpected situations.”

A wide smile spread on Richard's face as he listened to the string of good news.

The wine in his cup also became exceptionally fragrant and mellow. It was wonderful and delightful. “Good, good, good!”

His smile almost split his face in half.

Chapter 1199

As long as his father ascended the throne, he would be the crown prince of Flandom! At that time, all the beauties of Flandom would bow before him!

He could enjoy music, dance, and melodies every day.

How wonderful that would be!

Just then, a subordinate rushed in urgently and reported, “Sir! There's been a small problem. Margerina's sister, Katalina, has run away!”

“What did you say?” Richard was instantly infuriated. He put down the cup and stood up, asking with a stern face, “Tell me what happened.”

Katalina... She was a famous beauty in Flandom.

Richard had long since considered her as his private plaything. He wanted to enjoy her beauty and bring her under his control every night.

Now, his subordinate said that she had run away... Without this great beauty, a great part would be missing from his life of pleasure!

The subordinate immediately explained the incident at the private hot spring and emphasized, “Katalina was rescued. The ones who repelled us were two Florencians!”

The faces of Florencians were distinctively different from Flandonians. Therefore, the subordinate remembered them deeply. Florencians...

Upon hearing that word, Richard immediately thought of the Lycantroops that had come for a military exchange. He felt anger at the humiliation he suffered earlier.

"According to what you said, the opponents were strong and Florencians. It's very likely that they're from the Lycantroops."

Richard's eyes were full of wisdom as he immediately ordered, "Go, keep an eye on the Lycantroops and investigate any recent activities related to Florencians. Report to me immediately if there's any news!"

Richard harbored a grudge against losing to Noir and was finding a reason to deal with him. Now, he naturally would not let go of this great opportunity.

Chapter 1199 "Yes, sir!" the subordinate responded and immediately went to execute the order.

"The Lycantroops..." Richard narrowed his eyes, tapping his fingers on the desktop for a moment. Then, he said sinisterly, "It's best you don't let me find dirt on you. Otherwise... Don't blame me for being ruthless and making you leave in a coffin!"

After speaking, Richard lifted his cup and drank all the wine.

A moment later, the subordinate who had gone out came back excitedly and reported, "Sir, we've found clues about those two Florencians." Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Richard immediately raised his brows with a wide smile. "Tell me!"

"They're here to participate in the auction and have already registered at the Fierde Auction House." The auction!

Richard immediately thought of many things.

It was soon the annual treasure auction event at the Fierde Auction House. Everything that appeared in this auction was an invaluable treasure. No one could enter without at least a net worth of a billion Flandonian dollars. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

The highlight of this auction was undoubtedly the blind box items.

The blind box auction involved placing the most valuable treasures in one of three blind boxes. Wealthy individuals who wanted a 100% chance of getting the treasure had to bid for all three boxes. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

This made the auction more thrilling, mysterious, and profitable for the auction house.

Richard was sure that the two Florencians were here for the blind box auction.

Chapter 1200 However...

The family he belonged to held the political power of all of Flandom and controlled Flandom's economic lifelines. The wealth they possessed was unimaginable for ordinary people.

"An auction is just about who has more money. I have the advantage!" Richard said confidentially and immediately ordered, "Go and make preparations immediately. Make sure to bid on the three blind boxes at the auction house.

"We must get our hands on them no matter how much it costs! That way, we can lure out the two Florencians!"

Money was just a string of numbers. Richard did not care at all. As long as he could securely sit in the position of the crown prince, he would not have to worry about not having money to spend.

"Yes!"

The subordinate immediately went to carry out the order.

Flandom was plunged into a conspiracy.

Meanwhile, in the distant Kiyoto, the haze continued to hang heavily...

-Luna finished all her preparations in Kiyoto and stayed in an inconspicuous hotel.

Marcellus knocked on the door and entered, saying cautiously, "Master! I've just received the latest news. The ministers in the court have gathered at Paramount Hotel. I suspect that they're discussing how to deal with the Wolf King!"

Dealing with her husband! Boom- Upon hearing those words, Luna exploded instantly.

A fierce and ruthless aura with her as the center erupted with extreme heat and hostility, spreading in all directions. It swept the world and crushed everything in its path.

It was just a moment, but all the furnishings in the room exploded into countless tiny splinters, scattering like dust. The chilling aura was like coming from an ancient glacier. It was terrifying and made others tremble.

The nearby Marcellus shivered and immediately lowered his head, not daring to look up.

The once gentle woman was gradually changing as time passed. The power of the demon snake and the Sanguis Blade were affecting Luna more and more. She was more prone to irritability and murderous intent, and the effect the mantra had on her became weaker and weaker.

If this continued, she would erupt completely one day.

“Spread my order!” Luna immediately shouted coldly like a demon lord roaring in the abyss. “Gather all the experts from the Shrouded Gate. I have an order to announce. Someone immediately carried out her order.

Marcellus said worriedly, “Master, the ancient martial families behind those ministers have been quite active lately. They’ve dispatched many martial realm experts to escort those ministers...”

Marcellus was just a Martial Emperor. If he got caught, the Shrouded Gate would be in trouble.

“It doesn’t matter. I’ll take action!”

Just those simple words contained Luna’s supreme confidence and were filled with endless killing intent.

Without looking back, she said indifferently, “You guys just take care of the ‘lackeys. As for the so-called martial realm experts, I’ll deal with them one by one!”

Such boiling killing intent...

Marcellus’ heart trembled, and he immediately responded, “Yes!” After a while, all the experts from the Shrouded Gate arrived. “Shrouded Gate, Sieben...”

“Shrouded Gate, Seis...”

“Shrouded Gate, Cinq...”

A group of people bowed outside Luna’s door.

“Since everyone is here...”

With Luna’s words, the door automatically spread open.

She glanced at the elite members of the Shrouded Gate outside and immediately ordered, “Everyone, set off!”

Although Paramount Hotel was not very famous, the interior was luxurious, and the decoration was grand. It was one of the few seven—star hotels in the capital and a favorite of many nobles and ministers.

At that moment...
