

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea

Chapter 1393

Chapter 1393

Two hundred million....

It was an extremely low starting price for a luxurious office building.

It was a result of the Conway family's manipulation behind the scenes.

As soon as the host spoke. Jasper stood up eagerly and shouted a high price, glancing provocatively at Andrius, "I bid five hundred million!"

"I admit that you were impressive just now, Moonshade. However, neither can impressiveness put food on the table nor can it be used as cash.

"Without money, everything you do is in vain. A stray dog is still a stray dog, and a beggar is still a beggar!"

At that point, Jasper felt increasingly smug. "Without money, you should hurry up and get lost. Don't act pretentious in front of me."

Andrius rarely encountered such arrogance and ignorance recently. He did not want to waste time with such a person here.

Thus, he sneered and said disdainfully, "I'll only raise the price once. If anyone dares to outbid me, then I'll give Horizon Moon to them!"

After saying that, he raised his bidding sign and declared, "I bid five billion."

Five billion!

As soon as those words were spoken, Jasper's mockery was instantly stuck in his throat. His whole person immediately deflated, losing all his arrogance.

Meanwhile, everyone present was once again shocked.

Five billion...

That was an astronomical amount of money!

Even if they added all their industries up, it would not even reach half of five billion...

Just who was this unassuming young man to be able to throw out five billion so casually?

For a moment, all the dignitaries were dumbfounded.

The bidding time passed, and no one spoke up.

It was Andrius who broke the silence. "Host, since no one bid, can you announce the result of the bidding?"

"Huh? Oh, right!" The host snapped back to reality and quickly knocked the gravel. "Since no one placed a bid, Horizon Moon belongs to Mr. Moonshade!"

With the results announced, the dignitaries slowly recovered. Their gazes fell on Jasper.

Andrius' move was undoubtedly a slap to the Conways. He basically put Jasper on the barbecue rack to grill!

If Jasper did not handle it well, the Conways' reputation would be ruined.

stop right there!"

Seeing Andrius and Kate about to leave, Jasper could not take it anymore. He suppressed his anger and asked coldly, "What are you doing? What do you want?"

Andrius slowly turned around. He glanced at Jasper disdainfully and said, "I just want to tell you that there are some things that don't belong to you or your family, so it's best to return them obediently. Otherwise, you and your family will pay a heavy price."

Jasper was so angry he felt his insides twist.

As the eldest son of the Conways, he had always been the one to threaten others. Today, he was unexpectedly threatened by someone else!

"Max!" Jasper shouted without looking back.

Swoosh

As soon as he spoke, a figure rushed out from behind him and charged at Andrius. The person was so fast that ordinary people could not see him clearly.

They could only see the deep footprints he left on the floor!

The next second...
