

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea

Chapter 1397

Chapter 1397

"Hmph, so what if they're martial realm experts?"

Jasper showed a ferocity and ruthlessness that contrasted with his handsome face. "I don't believe that a body made of flesh and blood can survive under such heavy firepower!"

As he spoke, his subordinates had already reached their designated positions. They were just waiting for the power outage.

Inside the house, Andrius and the others were happily enjoying dinner.

Thud-

Suddenly, the yellowed light bulb flickered and went out.

"Huh? Why is the power out?"

"I remember paying the electric bill for this month..."

Liliana and Scott were both stunned and muttered in confusion.

Kate sensed something amiss. She looked through the window and soon saw dim figures in the darkness!

"Andrius!" she immediately said, "There are many people outside holding specially made firearms. They must have come prepared!"

Upon hearing this, Scott and Liliana were instantly shocked.

Scott said anxiously, "Andrius, they must be people sent by the Conways. You must leave quickly through the back door. There's still time."

"It's too late." Andrius shook his head. "They've already surrounded the house. Not even a mosquito will be able to get out. They've cut off our retreat."

"Huh?" Scott's eyes widened in disbelief and despair. He glanced outside the window and saw dozens of people guarding the front of the main gate!

"I'm sorry..." Scott said guiltily, "If not for us, you wouldn't have been implicated, and the Conways wouldn't attack you. I..."

"It's fine!"

However, Andrius smiled and stood up to pat Scott's shoulder. He walked toward the door, his powerful voice reaching the siblings' ears.

"These ants don't pose any threat to me. You guys enjoy your meal. I'll deal with them and come back. Kate, take care of the inside."

Then, Andrius strode out..

"Andrius!"

"Andrius..."

The siblings panicked when they saw this.

Dozens of people with guns were waiting outside. Would Andrius be able to come back if he left?

If anything happened to him, it would be their fault!

"Calm down, it's okay!" Kate pulled the two back helplessly and said calmly, "Let's just eat. Andrius will be fine. Leave it to him."

Then, she picked up the only pieces of meat left in the bowls and placed a piece on each of the siblings' plates. She was relaxed, comfortable, and composed as if Andrius was just going out to crush a few ants.

Scott and Liliana were relieved by her calmness, but they still could not be carefree enough to enjoy their meal. They put down their forks, waiting nervously.

Outside the house, Justin saw the house turn pitch black after the power outage, but the people inside did not come out. He ordered Team One to pour gasoline, preparing to burn. Scott and the others alive. He had already made all the preparations.

Swoosh-

At that moment, a figure appeared in the darkness without any warning.

Bam!

Smack!

Thud!

The person was like a swift cheetah, darting around. In just a few seconds, he kicked all the people preparing to pour gasoline, sending them all flying.

"Gah..."

"OW..."

Chapter 1397

"It hurts..."

"Mommy..."

Sudden miserable screams echoed in the silent night, spreading far and wide.

These people lost their mobility once they were kicked down.

Whoosh...

The next moment, the figure stood in the center and walked toward Jasper. It was Andrius, who had just come out of the house.
