

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea

Chapter 1399

Chapter 1399

The off-road vehicle bumped and staggered, quickly driving out of the small road and onto the asphalt. It was like an eagle soaring in the sky, or a fish entering the vast ocean.

Justin and Jasper breathed a sigh of relief.

"Damn it, what the hell is that guy? He's too fierce!"

Justin cursed and occasionally looked back, feeling somewhat relieved when he did not see Andrius chasing after them.

"No matter what he is, we need to get away first." Jasper was also frightened and sped up frantically, saying with lingering fear, "In any case, this situation is getting out of control. It's better to let Dad take action. He can handle it more efficiently."

It was clear that Andrius was also from the ancient martial world and had insight into their family secret. If he was not dealt with promptly, there might be trouble later.

Justin agreed deeply.

"But..." Justin said worriedly, "Jasper, is that Moonshade guy really not coming after us?"

It was not strange for Justin to be suspicious. Andrius' display earlier had scared him out of his wits. The present Justin was no different from a startled bird.

"I-I don't think so..." Jasper stammered out a reply. He glanced at the speedometer and saw that it was over 300.

Jasper instantly felt relieved. "We're going over 300. Even if he's powerful, he won't be able to catch up. Don't worry."

The last two words were meant not only for Justin but also for himself.

Before he could finish speaking, when he raised his head to look ahead again, he suddenly realized that a figure had appeared in front of the car. It was Andrius.

"H-h-he..." Justin was terrified by Andrius' sudden appearance and shivered violently. He banged on the car window, his voice trembling, "He caught up..."

"Don't be afraid!" Jasper comforted his brother and himself. "I'll run him over!"

As he spoke, he floored the gas pedal, not letting go.

Vroom-

The off-road vehicle roared again, accelerating as it headed straight for Andrius.

Chapter 1399

2/3

"Die! Go to hell!"

At the same time, Jasper also roared, "Run him over! Run him over!"

Justin also placed all his hopes on this collision.

Their thoughts held high hopes, but the reality was harsh.

Screech...

Bang...

The next moment, the off-road vehicle charged toward Andrius with unparalleled speed.

If it were an ordinary person, they would have been sent flying far away and died instantly. However, the person in front was no ordinary person but Andrius Moonshade.

With just a casual wave of his hand, he stopped the momentum of the off-road vehicle. Then, he raised his hand, lifted the entire vehicle, and flipped it over.

Bang...

Boom...

Clang...

After a series of jolts, the vehicle was smashed beyond recognition.

Justin and Jasper crawled out, looking disheveled. Their heads were bleeding from the collision, and they were covered in dirt. There was no trace of their arrogance and confidence just moments ago.

Bam!

Bang, bang, bang!

When Jasper came out, he aimed his gun at Andrius and fired without hesitation. He knew that this was his only chance.

However, even if he wanted to catch Andrius off guard, he still failed.

Andrius caught the bullets using his fingers.

When Jasper finished firing all the bullets, not a single one had harmed Andrius in the slightest.

Clatter.

Andrius tossed the bullets in his hands, and they scattered in front of Jasper, bouncing a few