Chapter 1075 Myriad Beasts Valley

Leif continued, "As you all know, my family has been part of the Saint Society for many years. We've been involved in the maritime secret realm for generations, with several family members participating. The map I just gave you represents centuries of work by our Reed family. It's not very detailed, but it covers half of the maritime secret realm."

After a pause, he added, "This map not only shows places where treasures were found but also highlights many dangerous areas. With this map in hand and by following its directions, you can easily steer clear of danger!"

As Leif finished speaking, many people started to praise him.

"Captain Reed really is incredible. Owning such a valuable map, that's impressive!"

"Looks like we've teamed up with the right person this time!"

Pleased by the compliments, Leif smiled and said, "Everyone, there's one more thing I need to clarify. I'll take 80% of the team's gains. This isn't just because I've provided the map, but also because I'm the strongest here. Any objections?"

The team was taken aback by Leif's demand, and a wave of discontent started to ripple through some members.

However, they recognized that Leif was indeed the strongest among them. If they offended him, things wouldn't end well for them. Thus, they chose not to voice any objections and reluctantly agreed with Leif.

Liam glanced at Laura and didn't dispute Leif's words.

After all, he would still do things at his will. If they found the treasure, the capable ones would still obtain it.

This verbal agreement couldn't hold him back.

So, Liam ignored Leif, took out the map, and started examining it.

He had an exceptional memory, almost to the point of never forgetting. As a result, he remembered all the dangerous areas and the spots ripe with opportunities marked on the map.

Liam reviewed his memories and meticulously compared them with the map. Once he confirmed there were no errors, he put the map away.

At that moment, he felt a strong urge pulsing through him.

He furrowed his brow and concentrated, realizing it was agitation from the Heart of Life inside his body.

Usually, the Heart of Life was calm, and this disturbance was unprecedented. Once Liam realized that the Heart of Life was agitated, he quickly understood something.

Incredible treasures in the secret realm must be stirring such a reaction in the Heart of Life!

With this thought, Liam closed his eyes and focused intently.

He discovered that the vibration from the Heart of Life pointed towards a forbidden area on the map, the Demon Forest!

He checked the map and noticed that the Demon Forest was highlighted in dark red.

This meant that the area was extremely dangerous.

Yet, this didn't deter Liam.

He knew he needed to venture into the Demon Forest regardless.

After all, risk and reward often went hand in hand, and to save Julie and the others, Liam needed to strengthen himself quickly.

Laura, sitting next to Liam, felt that something was

With a concerned look, she whispered, "Liam, is something bothering you? Did you find something on the map?"

Liam shook his head in response to her question, choosing not to reveal the truth.

He had decided not to take Laura to the Demon Forest with him. Given her current abilities, it would be unsafe for her to join him, and it wasn't necessary for her to face such dangers.

Meanwhile, Leif had made his intentions clear.

With a sneer and a dismissive wave at the agitated crowd, he declared, "Let's go! Our first destination is Myriad Beasts Valley!"
