

Chapter 1098 Liam's Revenge

In the lotus leaf arena, Liam had utterly dominated Garrett, leaving Garrett immobile.

Liam no longer needed the gravitational magnetic fields to restrain Garrett. Garrett lay sprawled in the arena, bloodied and disheveled.

Despite his victory, Liam wasn't finished.

The crowd watched in stunned silence as Liam fashioned a crude dog collar from his belt and forced it onto Garrett's neck.

Humiliation burned in Garrett's eyes, his whole body trembling with rage.

The collar served as Liam's final mockery. With a rough yank, Liam tossed Garrett off the arena like garbage.

This act sealed the victory for Team Rodney.

Landing with a thud, Garrett relished a moment of respite. As his strength returned, he ripped off the collar, shame contorting his features. In a fit of fury, he yelled at Mateo, "Kill him! Now!"

Mateo, however, shrugged helplessly. Attacking would lead Rodney to intervene, and probably leaving them both worse off.

Mateo tried to comfort Garrett, saying, "Mr. Glyn, calm yourself. Striking now will only benefit Doug. We'll reclaim our honor in the final battle, I promise."

Rejoining his team, Liam received a congratulatory pat from Rodney, followed by a hushed warning. "You've angered Garrett, and now, you'll have to face the consequences. He's Cillian's son, having a powerful background. I can only offer you limited protection here."

Liam, stoic, simply nodded.

The final match loomed.

One by one, the strongest fighters from each group ascended the arena.

Below the stage, Briggs approached Liam. "Congratulations, Kolton," he said. "Your rapid progress to sixth-tier Primogem Warrior is impressive. Thinking of seeking out Townsend to avenge your sister?"

Liam remained silent. Briggs continued, "That was kind of reckless, what you just did to Garrett. His background is terrifying..."

Briggs' nagging finally got to Liam. Liam interjected, "Garrett and Townsend are close friends!"

This revelation ignited a fierce anger in Briggs' eyes. His voice grew low and menacing. "How about we kill Garrett?"

Liam felt resigned hearing Briggs' words. He, too, wanted to kill Garrett and save Shayla. But the time wasn't right.

He would need to expose his identity to save Shayla, which meant killing everyone here.

He wasn't confident that he would be able to pull that feat.

With a shake of his head, he declined Briggs' suggestion. "Let's see how the last battle unfolds. We can deal with Garrett later."

Liam fell silent after that.

Meanwhile, roughly a hundred kilometers away from the Lotus Lake, a colossal figure was running toward the Lotus Lake.

A closer look would reveal it was the ape-shaped primogem beast that had shown up at the cave where Liam and Laura had rested.

Each thunderous step from this primogem beast left a massive footprint in its wake. It glared towards the direction of the Lotus Lake, muttering, "Almost there. Son of a bitch, how dare you kill all my food! You'll pay with your life!"
