

Chapter 1125 Join The Team

Liam hadn't anticipated Susannah's openness about her team's real purpose for visiting Shadow Valley.

Susannah said, "The Shadow Palace has been in Shadow Valley for ages. It's bound to hold a wealth of undiscovered treasures. Naturally, there are numerous hidden treasure sites in the maritime secret realm. Sadly, most of the rare items have already been scavenged."

After a pause, she continued, "The Shadow Palace, however, remains unexplored. The Cyan Light Lamp that Idris used earlier was specifically designed by our ancestors in the Prescott family to counteract shadow beasts. I'm convinced that the treasures within the Shadow Palace are still untouched!"

Liam nodded in agreement.

He looked at Susannah, feeling appreciative. After all, she had taken the time to explain the intricacies of the maritime secret realm to him.

Thanks to Shayla, Liam had found himself less antagonistic towards members of the Saint Society than before. He had realized that what he considered enemies were just people standing on opposite sides.

Moreover, the unassuming expression on Susannah's face only enhanced Liam's favorable impression of her.

Once the introductions were done, Susannah gave Liam a serious look and said earnestly, "Liam, I'm sharing all this because I want you to join my team. Being alone in Shadow Valley could be perilous. Joining our Prescott family's team will not only let you explore the Shadow Palace but also ensure your safety."

After saying that, Susannah gazed at Liam, hoping he would agree to her proposal.

Liam gave Susannah's proposal serious consideration this time. He realized that teaming up with the Prescott family might be beneficial. As Susannah pointed out, venturing alone might yield little reward.

Besides, he was unfamiliar with Shadow Valley, which made solo exploration risky.

With this in mind, Liam didn't turn down Susannah's offer. He nodded, responding, "Thank you for your kindness!"

Seeing Liam's acceptance, Susannah smiled warmly.

However, despite Susannah, the daughter of the Prescott family, welcoming Liam, the other team members weren't as pleased about Liam joining.

But they kept their displeasure hidden, harboring their discontent quietly.

They all believed that Liam was merely a burden to the team. They thought Liam had done that on purpose just to make Susannah ask him to join the team.

No one voiced their opinions. Instead, they silently harbored resentment towards Liam.

Unaware of the team's sentiments, Susannah, pleased by Liam's decision to join, led the team deeper into Shadow Valley.

Hours later, they reached a particularly secluded part of Shadow Valley. Even Liam noticed the stark change in the surroundings, particularly how the temperature had plummeted dramatically.

The biting cold rendered their clothing practically useless, constantly affecting their movements.

At that moment, Idris called for everyone to halt. Standing before the group, he declared seriously, "We're approaching the heart of Shadow Valley! There, the number of shadow beasts will grow considerably, and their strength will increase as well! Stay alert. It's crucial that we protect Miss Prescott!"
