

An Understated Dominance

Chapter 2373

Fenley's words made Conor's face darken.

Conor didn't expect the man in front of him to be so ruthless and wouldn't take him, the senior brother, seriously at all.

Conor said with a gloomy face, "Fenley, don't go too far! I am the senior brother of the Celestial Alliance; watch your attitude when you speak!"

"Senior brother, I have been polite to you; you'd better not make it difficult for me." Fenley said it coldly.

"Difficult? Humph! I think you are clearly seeking revenge!" Conor's tone was unkind.

"Senior brother, don't delay any more; there is no point; you must make a choice today." Fenley was unmoved.

"What will happen if I don't go with the law enforcement team?" Conor asked with narrowed eyes.

"Then don't blame me for taking action against you!" Fenley said it coldly.

"You are so presumptuous!" Conor was instantly furious.

"Fenley, don't think that you can show off your strength here just because you have some strength. If we really fight, I may not lose to you!"

"You can try." Fenley had no expression on his face.

"You are really going too far!" Conor gritted his teeth.

"Okay, okay, both of you say less!"

Noemi immediately stood between the two and began to talk about the situation, seeing that it was getting more and more tense.

"We are all from the same sect; why do we have to fight each other? Brother Fenley, give me some face; let's forget about this matter today. I will call my father later and ask him to take back his order."

“Noemi, I value friendship, but I cannot forgive the crime Senior Brother committed. The master has issued a strict order mandating his detention and subsequent trial. The sect rules threaten immediate execution if he disobeys.” Fenley’s words were sonorous.

“What?!”

As soon as these words came out, Noemi and Cassidy changed their faces instantly.

Kill on the spot to enforce the sect rules!

Once these words came out, the meaning was completely different.

Only disciples who committed heinous crimes would typically face such severe punishment.

The issue stemmed from Conor’s failure to adequately protect Noemi.

Even if he really wanted to investigate, given his status, it would only be a verbal warning or a few slaps.

Why would their father, Alloy, issue such a strict order as if he were treating a serious criminal?

At this moment, not only were Noemi and Cassidy shocked, but Conor, as the person involved, was also in turmoil.

If he had done nothing, he would not have panicked. But he had something to hide, and he was not confident enough.

Now, when he heard Fenley’s words, his first reaction was, Could it be that Alloy had already noticed something?

His collusion with the Temple of the Gods and his betrayal of the sect were completely exposed?

However, upon careful consideration, it seemed unlikely.
