Chapter 2401

When the referee announced the start, the audience became instantly excited and began to cheer one by one.

Of course, most people chose to support Sawyer.

Sawyer was very strong, but Briggs looked too mean.

“Young man, I advise you to admit defeat; otherwise, you will inevitably break your hands and feet when the fight breaks out.” Sawyer said it casually while drinking. He didn’t take a lovely boy in his twenties seriously at all. His goal was to defeat the warriors of Group A.

To put it bluntly, these elites from Group B were just stepping stones for Sawyer.

“Master Sawyer, it’s not appropriate for you to come and fight with the younger generations, right?” Briggs smiled and waved the folding fan in his hand.

Sawyer said shamelessly, “What’s inappropriate? Monks are also human beings. Human beings will have seven emotions and six desires. How can they truly achieve the four elements’ state of emptiness? To put it bluntly, those monks you have seen are just a group of hypocrites who deceive themselves. On the surface, they claim to have no desires, but I don’t know how many shameful things they have done in secret. I don’t have any advantages, but I am real and never cheat. If I have desires, I will satisfy them. As the saying goes, wine and meat pass through the intestines, but Buddha remains in the heart.”

Briggs smiled and shook his head. “Master Sawyer, I don’t agree with your opinion. Once upon a time, before you broke the precepts, weren’t you a pious monk?”

As an ascetic monk, Sawyer must have tempered his body and spirit. He cannot waver in his beliefs unless he has experienced severe stimulation.

“The past is the past, and the present is the present. In the past, my ignorance and naivety prevented me from seeing through many things, resulting in unnecessary suffering. Now that I have achieved enlightenment, I lead a comfortable life. Life is only a few decades long. I have to live a miserable life instead of enjoying the wealth and glory. Isn’t this a brain problem?” Sawyer sneered.

“Master Sawyer, it seems that you’re no longer an ascetic monk, but you have taken another path.” Briggs remained calm.

“Although I am no longer an ascetic monk, I have not lost my skills. If you like to ask for trouble, I don’t mind teaching you a lesson.” Sawyer said it coldly.

“Today, in this case, I will learn from your tricks.” Briggs slowly clasped his hands together to show respect.

“Humph! Asking for trouble!”

Sawyer lifted the wine pot, raised his head, drank a mouthful of wine, and then sprayed it at Briggs through the air.

“Puff~!”

The wine sprayed out in copious amounts.

What was strange was that as soon as the wine was released, flames suddenly broke out all over the sky.

The flame appeared to have a spirit, turning into a long red dragon that roared towards Briggs with its fangs and claws bared.

Briggs smiled slightly, without dodging or avoiding, but just raised the folding fan in his hand and gently waved it at the dragon of flame.

“Huh~!”

A hurricane roared out, sweeping a large number of wind blades and directly blowing the Dragon of Flame into pieces.

Finally, it turned into a sky full of flames, scattered in all directions, and disappeared without a trace.

Neither of them took advantage of the evenly matched first collision.

“Huh?”

Sawyer raised his eyebrows in surprise. He didn’t expect that the dragon of flame he sprayed out was actually cracked by Briggs so easily.

It seemed that Briggs was really capable.

“Come again!”

Sawyer was a little disappointed, took another sip of wine, and then sprayed it again at Briggs.

“Puff~!”

The wine sprayed out in copious amounts.

However, unlike the previous dragon of flame, the wine sprayed this time turned directly into a ball of white ice mist, sweeping towards Briggs.

The temperature of the ice mist was extremely low, and wherever it passed, even the ground began to frost quickly.

“Oh? Interesting.”

Briggs’s curiosity evidently increased upon witnessing this scene.

Such a method of alternating between fire and ice was indeed rare.

Facing Sawyer’s ice mist attack, Briggs still did not dodge and waved the folding fan in his hand at the ice mist in front of him again.

“Hu~!”

In an instant, a strong wind blew around. A violent energy gushed out instantly, crashing into the ice mist like a hurricane.

“Crackle...”

There was only a burst of beans.

Sawyer sprayed the ice mist, which rapidly crystallized into small ice cubes that fell from the air to the ground.

The scene looked like hail.

In just a few seconds, the ice mist in the sky had completely disappeared, leaving only broken ice cubes on the ground.

“How could this happen?”

The attack failed again, making Sawyer frown slightly.

With the means he just showed, it was more than enough to deal with most innate warriors.

But the boy in front of him was an exception. He could easily resolve two attacks. It was really quite strange.

“Master Sawyer, you use these magical tricks to deal with me. It’s a bit contemptuous. Since you want to fight, please show some real skills.” Briggs gently waved his folding fan, smiling.

His confident and unrestrained appearance made a group of young girls in the audience scream.

Chapter 2403

“Wow! So handsome! It really fits the saying, The man on the street is like jade, and the young master is unparalleled in the world!”

“He is handsome and skilled at fighting. I love this type of man.”

“Come on, husband! My husband is the best!”

“ ... ”

Briggs’ every move on stage could elicit waves of enthusiasm from the audience.

Some young girls were fascinated by him, their eyes shining.

If Briggs was just an embroidered pillow, it would be fine, but the fact that he easily resolved Sawyer’s attacks twice just now was enough to prove that he was quite powerful.

A handsome and talented young man naturally makes young girls yearn for him.

“F*ck! Isn’t it just a coincidence that he broke two tricks? What’s so great about it? He’s still pretending!”

“He looks like a sissy and doesn’t seem to have any real skills. Master Sawyer can kill him in minutes once he becomes serious.”

“Come on, Master Sawyer! Kill this lovely boy for me!”

“ ... ”

In contrast to the female audience’s love, the male audience was filled with curses and expressed extreme dissatisfaction.

What's the point of being good-looking? Men should speak with their fists.

If he has the ability, he should defeat Sawyer first. He has done nothing but pose here. It's disgusting to watch.

"Boy! I didn't expect you to have any skills. You can actually fix my ice and fire. I underestimated you." Sawyer narrowed his eyes slightly.

"Master Sawyer, it's not good practice to underestimate the enemy." Although I'm a newcomer, I'm not an ordinary person. If you have any tricks, just use them. I really want to see them." Briggs spoke again.

"I'm afraid you are not qualified to see my tricks." Sawyer shook his head.

"Oh? Master Sawyer, are you confident that you can win easily?" Briggs smiled.

"I'll make another move. If you can block it without dying, I'll give you a chance to see my real skills." Sawyer said it lightly.

"Okay, then please make a move, Master Sawyer." Briggs closed his folding fan and made a gesture of invitation.

"Boy! Watch out!"

Sawyer suddenly took a deep breath, and his muscles bulged instantly, and the veins on his skin bulged. Then, a dazzling golden light burst out of his body.

The golden light enveloping Sawyer made him seem like a god, majestic without anger.

A terrifying momentum instantly enveloped the whole venue.

Some spectators who were close to the ring felt their breathing stagnate, as if a huge rock was pressing on their chests, and they became particularly uncomfortable.

"Buzz~!"

At this time, the golden light around Sawyer became stronger, and it quickly gathered into a three-meter-tall, angry Vajra.

Immediately afterwards, Sawyer slowly raised his hand, and the angry King Kong on the surface of his body immediately made the same move.

Chapter 2404

“Brother Fenley, what kind of move is this? Why does it look a little familiar?”

In the audience, Noemi couldn't help but ask questions when she saw Sawyer, who was shining with golden light.

“This is the unique skill of Shaolin, Luohan.”

Fenley explained carefully. “If you practice this skill to perfection, it will not only have amazing defense but also greatly increase strength. Most importantly, you can integrate Luohan with other unique skills to produce unexpected effects.”

“Oh? So powerful?” Noemi raised her eyebrows, quite surprised.

“If I'm not mistaken, Sawyer used Luohan just to lay the groundwork, and the next attack is the real killer move.” Fenley stared at the two people on the stage and said it with interest.

“It seems that the handsome boy is in danger.” Noemi couldn't help but feel nervous.

Noemi really couldn't bear to see Briggs destroyed by a cruel hand because he was so beautiful.

“Luohan? Interesting.”

On the stage, Briggs waved his folding fan lightly, smiling, his expression unchanged.

Luohan is one of the thirty-six unique skills of Shaolin. It is also considered a superior skill in the martial arts world, but when used alone, it cannot exert much power.

So Briggs concluded that Sawyer should have a trick up his sleeve.

“Great compassion, Palm!”

When Sawyer finished accumulating strength, he suddenly shouted. He raised his palm and slapped it down at Briggs.

The angry Vajra covering his body also immediately took the same attacking action.

“Boom~!”

There was only a loud bang.

A huge golden palm shadow suddenly appeared out of thin air, like a mountain pressing toward Briggs.

The wind whistled, the air twisted, and sand and rocks flew wherever the palm shadow passed.

Briggs looked at the huge palm shadow that was smashing down on his head, but his face remained unchanged.

The strong wind blew his hair wildly, and his robes rustled.

And he still stood there, gently waving his folding fan, without any thought of dodging.

There was even a faint smile on his face.

“F*ck! Is this kid crazy? He didn’t dodge or evade?!”

“I think he was scared and didn’t know how to resist.”

“Even a martial arts master wouldn’t dare confront the Arhat’s Great Compassion Palm. This lovely boy is dead today!”

Briggs’ actions prompted countless people to talk about them.

The young girls exclaimed and continued to shout, “Be careful!”

In contrast, the male audience looked at him as if he were dead.

Only a martial arts master could resist Master Sawyer’s terrifying palm!

Chapter 2405

“Boom!!!” Under the watchful eyes of the crowd, Sawyer’s palm of immense compassion finally slapped Briggs’s head with a devastating force.

A terrifying energy wave, like a tidal wave, swept around with a loud bang. The momentum was huge, and the pressure was terrifying. A gust of wind blew in the faces of the audience below the ring, pushing their hair upright one by one, preventing them from opening their eyes.

After a few breaths, everything was calm.

The scene on the ring was beyond everyone’s expectations. In their opinion, Sawyer had just hit him with a palm, and if Briggs hadn’t dodged, he would have only one way to go. However, unlike what they expected, Briggs, who resisted the palm, not only did not die but also stood up.

There was no damage to his whole body, and even his clothes were clean and spotless.

This scene immediately shocked everyone. They didn't know what happened at the last moment. They didn't understand why Briggs didn't have any scars at all.

Could it be that Sawyer stopped in time?

This shouldn't be the case!

The shock wave from the recent collision was so real that even the audience members felt the intense pressure.

"What's going on? That pretty boy didn't die?"

"It's strange. With the Arhat skill and the Great Compassion Palm, it stands to reason that the lovely boy can't block it."

"D*mn it! Is this a ghost?"

Seeing Briggs intact, everyone in the audience looked at each other in confusion.

They were very dissatisfied with this result.

"Am I seeing it right? The handsome boy No. 19 actually blocked Sawyer's attack?"

Noemi widened her eyes and looked a little surprised.

When Sawyer activated the Arhat skill and used the Great Compassion Palm, she thought Briggs had survived.

Unexpectedly, Briggs was completely unscathed in the end. It was really unexpected.

"Just now, I saw a white light flashing on No. 19. Could it be because of that white light?" Cassidy showed a puzzled expression.

"It's the protective skill of Yam Palace, the Acala Mantra." Grace spoke up at the right time to clear up the confusion.

"Acala Mantra? Is it really powerful?" Noemi was a little curious.

"Of course it is powerful." Grace smiled and explained, "Acala Mantra is as famous as the Golden Light Mantra of Sacred Wyrms Summit. They both have top-notch protective skills. As long as you practice them to perfection, you will be invulnerable to swords and guns and immune to water and fire."

“As famous as the Golden Light Mantra? No wonder it was able to block Sawyer’s Great Compassion Palm just now.” Noemi was secretly shocked.
