

An Understated Dominance

Chapter 2444

As Bill Wolf spoke, his nails grew three inches long and sharp, with a dark air lingering around them, which was breathtaking.

“Bill Wolf, you can fight or cause trouble, but don’t underestimate the enemy. Be careful not to be caught off guard,” Bear King Bailey reminded him.

“Uncle Bailey, don’t worry. Our noble blood race will never lose to the lowly humans of Dragonmarsh,” Bill Wolf replied carelessly.

Bear King Bailey just smiled and said no more.

He knew the characteristics of the blood race well, especially Bill Wolf, who inherited the Dark Monarch’s blood.

His recovery ability was amazing.

As long as there was blood to replenish, even serious injuries could be healed instantly.

Unless blasted to bits or burned to ashes, he was almost unkillable.

Facing such a monster, the Dragonmarsh warriors were in trouble.

“Father, now it’s your turn,” Bear King Bailey said, looking at the third person.

A thin man wearing glasses and a priest’s robe stepped forward.

“Praise the Lord, I am Edward Adam, a cardinal in the Vatican,” the thin man said with a smile.

“Cardinal?” Tyson raised his eyebrows, puzzled.

A cardinal of the Holy See had high status, but Tyson didn’t understand why a clergyman would join a martial arts competition.

Looking at his thin and weak appearance, could he really do it?

“Tyson, Edward Adam is not just a cardinal; he’s also known as Angel Dust,” Bear King Bailey explained.

“What? Angel Dust?!” Tyson was shocked and got goosebumps.

Ordinary members of the Pantheon might not know, but Tyson knew what Angel Dust meant.

It was the trump card of the “betrayal” organization of the Holy See and the only survivor of the h-e-l-l experiment.

A monster among monsters, it had the physical fitness of a werewolf, the recovery ability of the blood race, and powerful exorcism methods.

Blessed by various holy laws, it was a killing machine.

Anyone who opposed the Church would die miserably if found by Father Edward Adam, known as Angel Dust.

The most terrifying thing was that he was a complete psychopath who enjoyed killing people cruelly.

The Church called him Father Adam Angel Dust, but those who opposed the Church called him the Song of H-e-l-l.
